

MEMBER STORIES

Catherine Beck
Head of Operations
dmg events

Secret to success?

So far I'd say it's a careful balance between self-awareness, self-education, integrity, and backing yourself.

Your life before events

Work wise I started summer jobs when I was around 13. At 18 I knew I didn't want to go to uni so I worked in a school for a few years, and worked in retail, hospitality, and sport over the summer holidays. I later changed my mind about uni, and had to juggle six jobs to help pull me through. I continued working in various roles after I graduated, until I uploaded my CV to a job search website and received a call about a role in the events industry. That was 16 years ago, and I've not once looked back!

Five words as to why you love the industry.

Creativity, autonomy, challenge, onsite-vibes (the dash makes it one word), cake.

What gets you out of bed in the morning?

Life.

What do you do outside of work?

Spend time with family and friends, outdoor exercise, cook, binge watch random series, and voluntary work.

