A rooftop event space at night, featuring a large white projection screen on the left displaying the 'whalar' logo. The area is framed by a complex metal truss structure with various stage lights hanging from it. In the foreground and middle ground, there are several round tables and chairs, some of which are white and others dark. A large black umbrella is visible on the right. The background shows a city skyline at night. The word 'seating' is overlaid in large white letters at the bottom left, with a red square highlighting the letter 'i'.
