Join us at the Biggest International Festival for the Business of Podcasting

The Podcast Show London is back for its third edition this spring and will once again bring together thousands from the global podcast community under one roof at the Business Design Centre in the buzzing borough of Islington, 22-23 May.

This one-of-a-kind event aims to inspire, empower and support the future of the entire podcasting world, from industry leaders, leading brands and platforms, to the sharpest new creators and everyone in between.

The extensive daytime programme will feature 150+ hours of content from hundreds of the biggest industry players from across the world, award-winning creatives, podcasters - and some truly exciting rising stars.

Get ready for more networking events & parties, more venues, major players, new content and new features including; a dedicated Creator Village for all things business, inspiration and networking for podcast creators, an expanding Brand Works Stage programme and a major exhibition that will present over 100 global brands and organisations from across the podcast industry.

Need a podcast fan fix? The Podcast Show LIVE will present a week-long festival line up of live podcasts from 20-26 May to thousands of podcast fans and enjoy some of your favourite voices brought to life in some of London's finest venues.
