Handmade in England

Our Promise...

Shifa Aromas is a British brand and we promise to bring you products that are hand-made in England by us. We source our raw materials locally and nationally trying our best to use ingredients that are environmentally friendly and recyclable where possible. We also love supporting and collaborating with local businesses and services including design, print and packaging to bring you a brand and products that we can say are proudly made in England.

Our Family...

Welcome to our small world where we love to make home fragrances. What makes our products unique are our special ingredients to which we add a pinch of ambition, infuse it with love, stir with passion, hand-pour with care and sprinkle it with creativity and all this wonderful magic happens in small batches in our family workshop in Yorkshire.
