ADDISON ROSS
LONDON

Where we've come from...

As young enthusiastic entrepreneurs in 1978, David Addison Ross and his brother Timothy opened their first Art Gallery in Eaton Terrace, London, launching the careers of many young artists.

The Gallery quickly developed to include an Art Consultancy service handling requests from clients around the world. 1980 saw the opening of their manufacturing centre based in Northumberland.

In 1990, David's future wife Sarah arrived from Australia, and whilst pottering about in the factory one weekend produced a couple of photo frames for her Kensington Flat and unbeknown to everybody at the time this was the beginning of the Addison Ross brand of today. Friends were desperate to buy the frames, a collection was designed and produced, and the rest is history.

Now owned and run by David and Sarah, Addison Ross is a global British Brand! We sell in many of the world's most beautiful stores, from Saks Fifth Avenue, Fortnum and Mason, Liberty, Lane Crawford and Bloomingdales.

What we're up to...

Photo Frames are what we're famous for, from wood veneers made in Northumberland to fashionable shades of enamel and silver plate, all our products are designed exclusively by us and share a common thread of elegance and style.

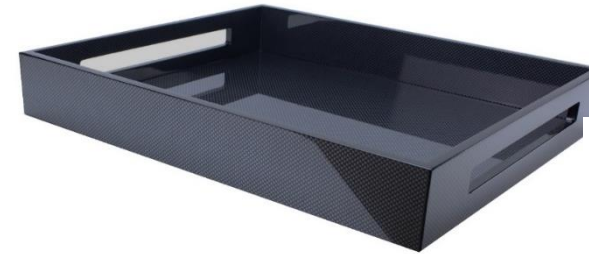

HOWEVER...we haven't stopped there, designing a collection of Scented Candles and Diffusers, Alarm Clocks, Note Books, Lacquered Boxes and Trays are now available to match and compliment the frames.

We LOVE our customers! If you have a special request just ask and we will endeavour to realise your dreams. Our wonderful team in Northumberland will always respond to any requests for help or information.

And our thought for the day...everyone always frames a happy image! Enjoy shopping with Addison Ross!

Regards

David and Sarah
