

THE CANDLE MANUFACTURER YOU CAN RELY ON

Who we are...

Bispol is one of the leading European manufacturer of candles, tealights, wax melts, reed diffusers, oil lights and grave lights. As a family business, we have been supporting customers with a range of products for over 28 years. The high standards set originally in the production warehouse in south Poland is what guide us today. It has led us to become a reputable and respected international supplier with strong customer base around the globe.

The world might have changed since the seeds of our business were planted in 1993 but what we stand for hasn't.

What we do...

Whether you are a supermarket, retailer, distributor, wholesaler, department store or garden centre, we have a product to suit your market.

From long burning tealights, colourful wax melts, quality tapered and pillar candles through traditional scented candles in glass, highly popular soy and wooden wick candles, to well designed reed diffusers and outdoor candles.

We've got it covered!

Quality matters...

By using highest quality raw materials in our products, we strive to ensure that the performance of our products meets the expectation of the most demanding customers. BRC Consumer Products audit confirms our obligation to ensuring each stage of our operations and production is performed to the highest standards.

We are responsible...

Some of Bispol's key activities towards sustainable development include developing new formulars with raw materials obtained in a sustainable way, reducing energy consumption by improving production processes, using a modern fleet of electric vehicles and sourcing raw materials locally where possible.

We keep innovating...

Our in-house Reserch & Development specialists and packaging technologists are dedicated to constant development of new and innovative products. It is achieved with state of the art machinery, laboratory and testing equipment and personal development of our employees.

WHY WORKING WITH US

Throughout the years Bispol have been creating mutual opportunities and building strong working relationships with a broad spectrum of clients.

Market experience you expect...

Having a broad experience in creating private label products with our customers in the UK and Ireland and working with major European and UK Fragrance Houses gives us confidence in being able to meet the requirements of your business and create products that follow current market trends.

Business partner you want to work with...

Our UK based consultants are here to meet at a convenient day and time and ensure effective communication. Because we manufacture in our factories in Poland, our lead times for deliveries are competitive and we can react promptly to your urgent stock needs.

Design support you don't always get...

Whether you need any support with designing your labels, artwork for your shelf ready packaging or need our advice on selecting the best Pantone colour to fit your product range, our in house graphic designers will be happy to help.

Customer service you deserve...

We maintain our industry position throughout Europe because we are always listening. From the initial enquiry, through product development, to delivery and after sales support, we aim to fully understand your needs and feedback and are always ready to provide excellent customer service.
