INTRODUCE A STRATEGY THAT

"The school felt the ReaderPen would considerably enhance the students' access to learning – being able to read words effectively, independently and discreetly in the classroom. The pens have been hugely successful in English lessons, for reading/scanning through long extracts and also in Science lessons, where students come across new and challenging scientific vocabulary."

- Head of English, Ryde Academy

PREVENTS READING FAILURE

“It gave targeted students more independence when it came to reading across a range of lessons. The ReaderPen has given our older students who struggle with reading due to a number of reasons, independence and confidence as well as a new-found pleasure for reading.”

- Specialist Teacher, Beverley School

“I would definitely recommend the ReaderPen to other schools for students that you know want to do well but then leave that to a bit of support, it has been absolutely brilliant.”

- Vicki Ford, English Teacher, Harrow Way Community School
