Connect

@ Bett

For Bett 2023, we are transforming the way our community connects and collaborates by launching Connect @ Bett – a completely new, tech-enabled meetings programme that will drive more meaningful conversations than ever before in Bett’s 37 year history.

Connect @ Bett will enable thousands of education buyers to meet directly with 300 EdTech companies for over 5,000 15-minute meetings as part of Connect @ Bett.

Connect @ Bett

Connect @ Bett empowers education buyers to discover the right solutions for their learners, in a fraction of the time. And it allows technology providers to find the people within institutions that can unlock the potential of their tech.

Education buyers join the program to:

- To ensure they are valuable, all Connect @ Bett meetings are double opt-in (both people want to meet each other) and scheduled based on each individual's availability.
- Discover products and services, quickly and efficiently
- Find solutions to their specific strategic, operational or pedagogical challenges
- Uncover new and emerging products from a wide range of companies, big and small, local and international

EdTech companies join the program to:

- Generate qualified leads by meeting prospects from education institutions and governments that have specifically chosen to meet with them - these 15-minute meetings can be continued onsite or post-event by requesting a follow up meeting in our app
- Engage with new and existing buyers within current customer organisations to find future ways to work together
- Launch new products and make announcements to 2,000+ qualified education buyers

Connect @ Bett is available for free to anyone from Education Institutions or Governments that are involved in or have influence over purchasing decisions.

EdTech companies, from start-ups to major brands from across the global education industry are joining Connect @ Bett by purchasing meetings packages.

They are providers of: (1) Teaching & Learning Technologies, (2) Equipment & Hardware, (3) Management Solutions, and (4) Non-Tech.
