

No learner left behind

Level-up learner success and empower your organisation with Cognassist.

We're on a mission to help every learner reach their full potential through neurodiversity.

Join Us!

#nolearnerleftbehind

Our growing community includes over 100 of the UK's best employers, universities, colleges and learning providers

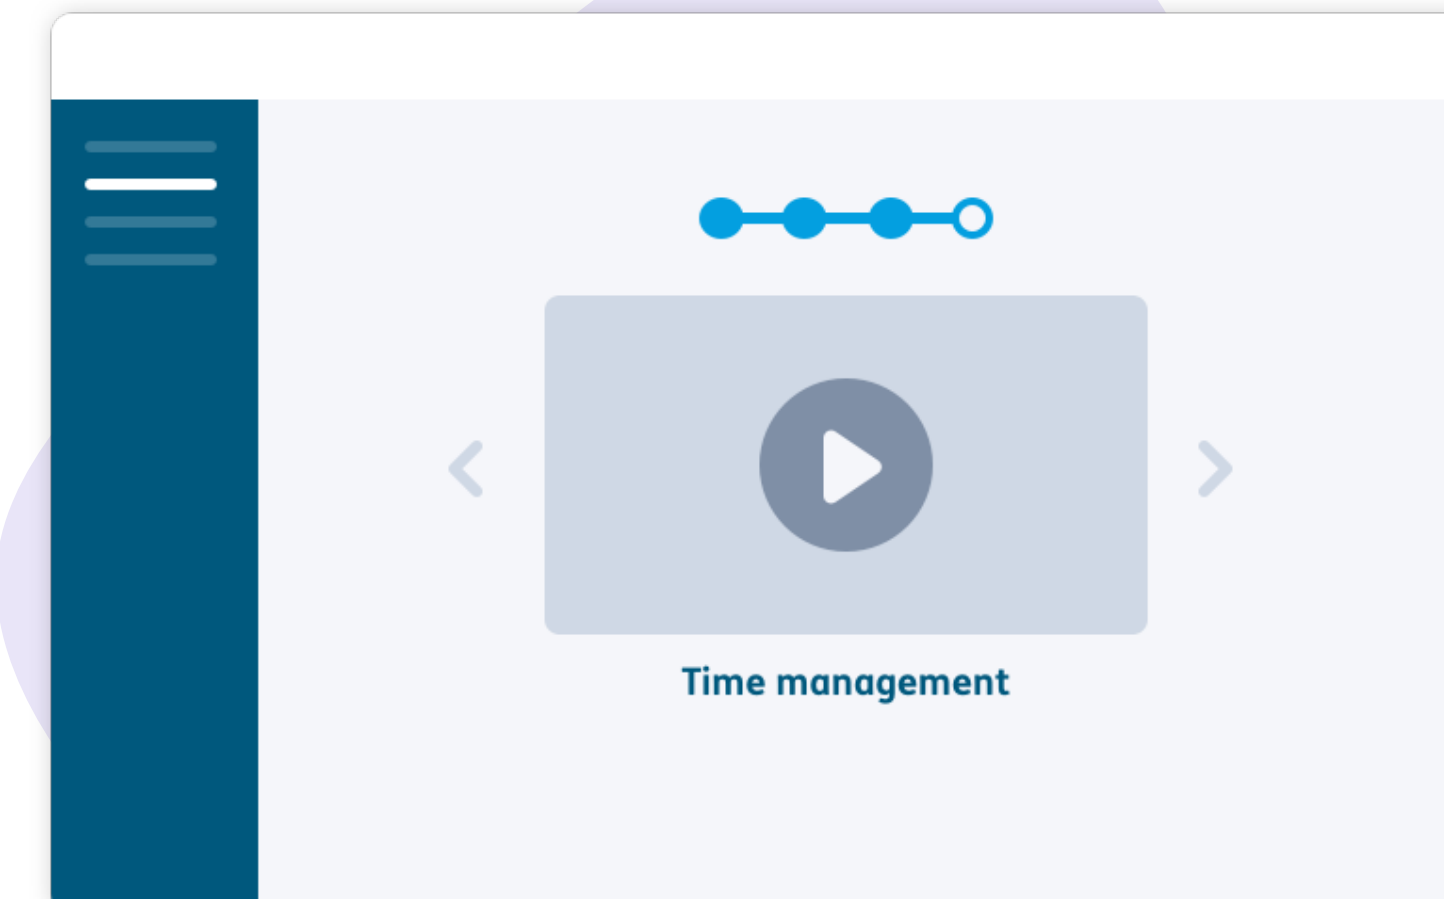

Digital cognitive assessments

Identify individual learning needs in 30 minutes with our award-winning neuroscience tech. Double retention rates, improve Ofsted compliance and access funding streams faster.

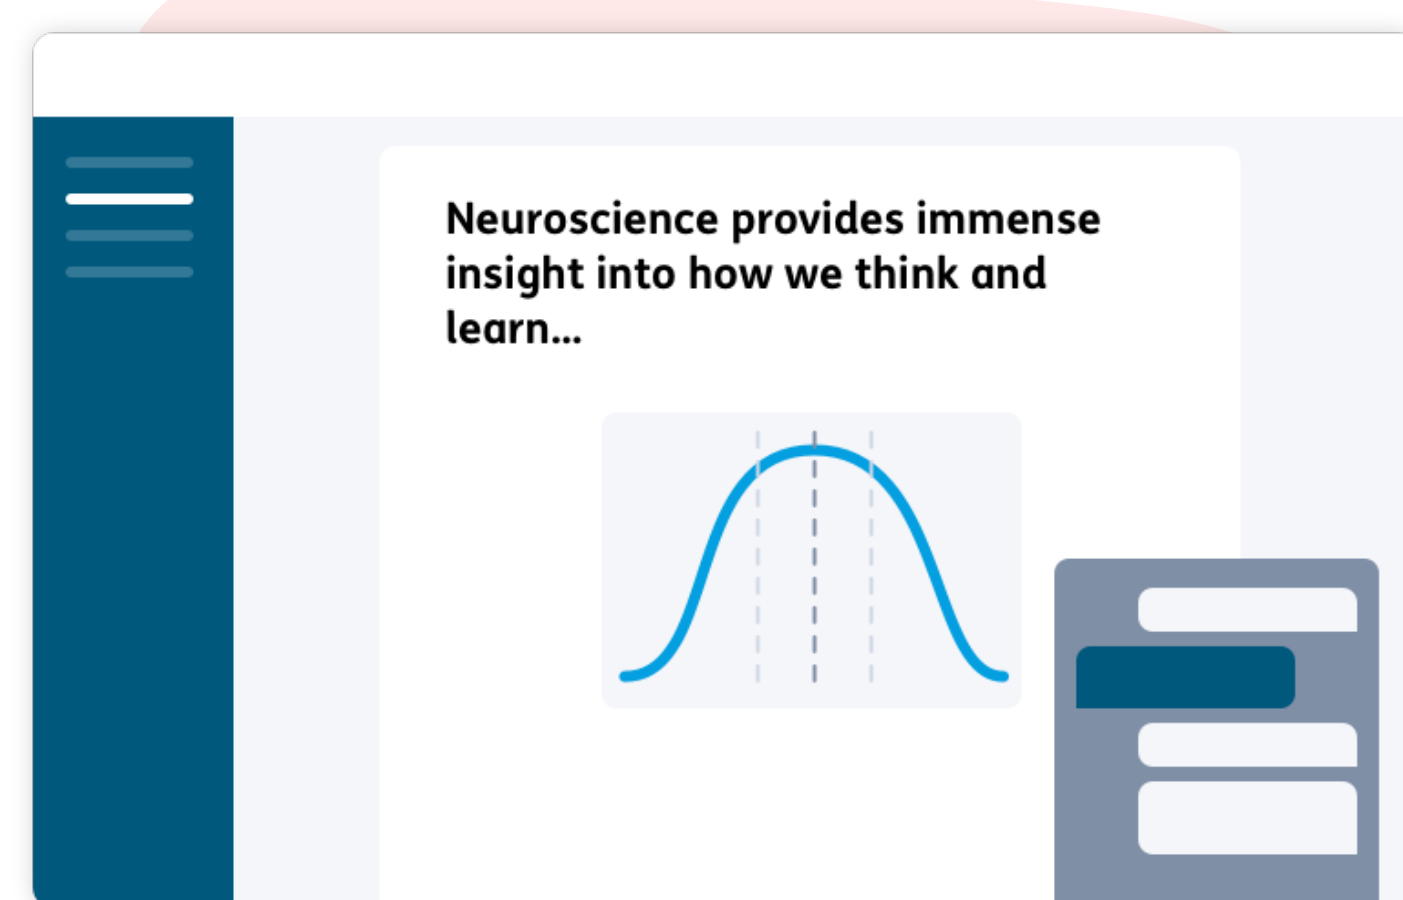

Personalised learner journeys

Provide essential support to every learner with over 500 media-rich learning strategies. Unique learner content from levels 1-6 is personalised to individual cognitive learner profiles.

Neuroscience training

Join over 4,000 fully trained learning specialists. Transform success and retention rates with the latest neuroscience training.

Bradford College increased learner attainment by 10% in a year

"Overall, our success rates for apprenticeships have improved and there is higher retention and progression. Using Cognassist, we can quickly see engagement reports, measure learner progress and provide a whole package of support for the learner. With programmes in Adults and Access we are already seeing increased engagement and progression using the Cognassist platform".

Asa Gordon, Assistant Principal
Bradford College

If there's one statistic every learning provider should hear, it's this...

1 in 5 learners in the UK leave education with no basic qualifications.

Yes, it's a scary statistic.

Whilst we've made significant progress to reduce barriers to education in the UK, we're still failing 20% of our learners.

Specifically, most learning providers, whether they're universities, colleges, adult learning or apprenticeship providers struggle with:

1. Easily identifying learners with additional needs
2. Supporting those learners to succeed across their educational journey
3. Accessing funding to provide that support

That's why we built Cognassist.

To help every learner reach their full potential and empower learning providers for the future.

Our platform will give you access to resources and insights that help you continue to drive meaningful change for your learners every day.

And ultimately, make sure no learner is left behind.

Sincerely,

Chris Quickfall - CEO

Don't just take our word for it...

We've assessed and help support over 70,000 learners.

That's not all. We've got over 100+ leading clients on the platform. And we've presented over £10m of learning support funding opportunities in the last 12 months. We're seeing double digital increases in success rates from the support our platform providers. Our platform can make the difference between learner success and failure. But don't just take our word for it...

"I enjoy using Cognassist because the topics are very useful and relate well into a working situation, e.g. how to present your information in a clear and concise way or how to write emails in a professional way.

However, it also relates with my personal life because some tasks also cover topics relating on how to interact with people around you which can be useful in your day to day life, for example a recent task was on how to manage challenging conversations and this could relate to and not just inside of work.

I can be quite a shy person so these topics relating to conversations are a real big help. Cognassist is suitable for anyone to help them achieve skills and handle everyday situations better."

Lois Collins, Learner
Youthforce

Book a demo