Central Resource areas help teachers reuse department resources from within each class and assignment.

Simple & easy-to-use

A global personalised menu for easy clear navigation into Teams and sites, even for beginners.

Don't already have Class Teams?

We can integrate with most UK MIS providers to sync class team membership using Microsoft school data sync.

A clear long-term strategy

Our program of rollout, training and follow up provides the school with a long-term strategy to succeed with Microsoft Teams.

Saving costs for schools

Large long-term savings when refreshing hardware and licensing. Potential to replace other third-party software packages into a single system.

Already have Teams?

If you already have Teams and Microsoft School Data sync through another provider, we can integrate with that data directly without additional MIS integration causing no disruption.

CloudDesignBox

Replace school network drives

Create long-term storage areas in Teams and SharePoint for non-curricular shares currently on the school network. Saving costs and getting all the benefits of moving to the cloud.

Staff subject analytics

Ensure no one is left behind using the staff assignment analytic tool. Department leaders can track how often each department is setting assignments.

Keep track of departments

Heads of department can easily keep track of the quality of resources being used in classes using centralised resource areas.

One version of the truth

Resources are centralised to avoid duplication of work. No need to upload resources for every class team you teach each academic year!

Student can drop off work

Each student in the class has an individual private folder and the class teacher can provide regular feedback on live documents.
