BRACKENBURN

Brackenburn Pucks is designed to keep the home fires burning all summer long.

Without cutting down a single tree. The Brackenburn pucks are perfect for chimineas and fire pits. They are made 100% from bracken which is harvested from non-agricultural land. The high calorific value and low moisture content mean they burn hotter and longer than oak. And the residue is high in potash, a natural fertilizer. Cutting bracken regularly thins the canopy and increases bio-diversity, encouraging the growth of flora and fauna. But most importantly they are not cutting down trees in order to keep the home fires burning. Isn't that heart warming?
