2022 CATALOG

75 YEARS OF DELIVERING COOLNESS TO THE WORLD

IGLOO

SINCE 1947

2022 is a BIG one for us; we're celebrating 75 years of delivering coolness to the world! In our long, scrappy, fun-filled history, we went from inventing the cooler product category to turning Igloo into a lifestyle brand and becoming the #1 cooler brand in the USA! All along the way, we invented a series of firsts that changed the landscape forever: the first clean portable metal water jug (1947), the first plastic ice chest (1960), the first truly personal cooler (Playmate, 1971) and the first biodegradable cooler (RECOOL, 2019). You could say we've been a tad busy the last 75 years...

But we're nowhere near done! Our 75th year marks the wide release of our ECOCOOL Collection, the world's first recycled hardside coolers, along with growing our offering of REPREVE® softsides – more important steps toward becoming the world's most eco-friendly cooler company. And as everyone has been adapting to new normals over the last couple of years – like adventuring as much as possible while staying closer to home – we've also shifted our focus to performance and fun. Products built to exceed the needs and increase the enjoyability of road-trippers, campers, picnickers, parents, athletes, frontline workers, corporate warriors, you name it.

The 2022 MaxCold® collection encapsulates affordable performance, and with our updated hardside sizes that make it a more cohesive product family and expanding into softsides with three brand-new collections(!), we're elevating the trusted MaxCold name and increasing its appeal and accessibility to even more consumers. And, of course, we're going all in on FUN, from our bestselling Retro Collection (with new-yet-just-as-vivid colors) to our Tag Along Too (an old-school favorite we revived and revamped) and an offering of the most colorful of Playmates.

As our journey as everyone's favorite cooler company continues into the next 75+ years,

WE'RE EXCITED TO HAVE YOU ALONG FOR THE RIDE.

IGLOO®

Born from a modest metalworking shop back in 1947, Igloo® has been instrumental in redefining how we live, work and play. What began with bringing clean water to the worksite quickly moved into super-functional, best-in-class ice chests. Our products made the family outdoor recreation movement of the 20th century possible. Suddenly, taking your kids camping on the weekend became easy and cross-country roadtrips became a summer vacation staple.

HARDSIDES

We've got a huge range of durable hardside coolers in every size – from the 4-quart Playmate Mini to the 150-quart Quick & Cool – that are always up for adventure, whether it's in the great outdoors or your great backyard.

ECOCOOL

THE WORLD'S FIRST HARDSIDE COOLERS MADE WITH RECYCLED PLASTIC

We've been on a roll with world firsts since 1947; revolutionizing the industry right and left. But these days our path of innovation is leading us down greener pastures – literally greener, thanks to our RECOOL® biodegradable coolers, REPREVE® softsides made with post-consumer recycled plastic bottles and THERMECOOL insulation (that's 50x better for the planet) in our hardsides. And now: ECOCOOL, the world's first recycled hardside coolers!

To put it simply, we're taking post-consumer plastic – primarily discarded plastic yogurt cups and milk jugs – that would otherwise end up in landfills throughout the world and transforming it into a recycled resin used in the outside body, liner and lid of our ECOCOOL coolers, from a Playmate to a 90-quart roller. And we're proud to say that there's nothing like this on the market.

ECOCOOL. One more step for Igloo. One giant leap...toward becoming the most environmentally friendly cooler company on Earth!

PULP FACTS

Pulp originated in China several thousand years ago when bamboo soaked in limewater was pounded into pulp for use in making paper, masks, kites and models.

The benefits of using molded pulp as a material are its reusability, compostability and that it's environmentally friendly. Plus, pulp provides cushion and protection in addition to its endless possibilities for design and use.

AKD (a sizing agent that helps provide pulp with hydrophobic qualities), natural waxes and binders can be added for stability of finished products. For some products, this means being able to withstand fluid leakage for weeks.

Recycling 1 ton of paper to create pulp saves:

- 15 trees
- 71 gallons of oil
- 7,000 gallons of water
- 601 kilowatts of power
- 4.6 cubic yards of landfill space

Experts say molded pulp products will naturally biodegrade wherever we throw them within 2 years.

A recent study by Pew Research Center indicates that millennials in adulthood are the most "sustainable" generation to date. These young adults are:

- More likely to support strict environmental policies and regulations
- Part of the majority (80%) who prefer to work for sustainable employers
- Willing to pay more for eco-friendly products

POLYSTYRENE FACTS

The technical name for that white, squeaky foam we all know is polystyrene and expanded polystyrene (EPS). It's made from a petroleum-based plastic.

EPS will never 100% biodegrade. Estimates vary for the breakdown of polystyrene (depending on size) from a few years to as much as 1 million.

Americans throw away 25 billion EPS coffee cups every year. And every day, there are enough EPS cups produced to circle the Earth if lined up end to end.

While it can be recycled, there are very few recycling plants that have the capability of processing EPS and very little market for post-consumer EPS.

By volume, polystyrene products fill up 25 to 30 percent of landfill space around the world.

When exposed to sunlight, polystyrene creates harmful air pollutants which contaminate landfills and deplete the ozone layer.

Due to the environmental impact, many cities and countries have implemented a ban on the commercial use of polystyrene.

US: POLYSTYRENE BANS

POLYSTYRENE BANS

Here's a list of some major cities that have completely or partially banned polystyrene foam, compiled by Groundswell.

1. New York City, New York (and several other cities in New York)
2. Takoma Park, Maryland
3. Seattle, Washington
4. Washington, D.C.
5. Miami Beach, Florida
6. Portland and Freeport, Maine
7. Nantucket (city and county), Massachusetts
8. Minneapolis, Minnesota
9. San Marcos, Texas
10. Portland, Oregon (and several other Oregon cities)
11. Los Angeles County and San Francisco, California (and many other cities and counties in California)

Bans in other countries: Manila, Philippines; Toronto, Canada; Paris, France; and Taiwan.

The World's First 100% Biodegradable Cooler

BENEFITS OF USING MOLDED PULP

Reusable, compostable and environmentally friendly. Plus, pulp provides temperature regulation, cushion and protection for endless uses.

Product breaks down into carbon dioxide, water and biomass in the natural environment. The EPA states the process can take anywhere from two months to two years.

AKD, natural waxes and binders added for stability and waterproofing.

Due to production method, no two products are alike and may vary in texture or color. Particles and spots may be visible on or embedded in product.

The Igloo RECOOL cooler is manufactured from recycled paper pulp in a facility that also makes non-recyclable products. While we take steps to minimize the risk of cross contamination, we cannot guarantee that the cooler may not contain non-recyclable plastics or other materials as a result of cross-contamination from the process to create the pulp or the manufacturing process.

THE MARINE COLLECTION

“Accessible” is one of our four brand pillars, and we’re not messing around when we say our coolers are accessible. We make them affordable so that anyone can buy a cooler at the price point that makes sense for them. AND we make coolers for everyone.

That’s where our Marine collection of hardside coolers comes in. By the ‘70s, we had covered the needs for so many – coolers for work, play, lunch – but our team saw a niche opportunity that we could own: Coolers for the fisherman! Hard-wearing, chill-keeping, strategically sized ice chests that could hold up to the needs of life on (and by) the water.

And so, the Marine collection was born. Designed to be durable, affordable – because we understand the average fisher may not have deep pockets nor the desire to spend a small fortune on a cooler – with great ice retention and, this is a big one, is reliable season after season. Qualities every fisher wants, whether they’re casting from a boat or off the jetty.

Not too long after we introduced our Marine line, they became so commonplace on fishing boats that boat companies began using the dimensions of Marine coolers to build their center console leaning posts so that our exact cooler would fit in perfectly! Now, that’s saying somethin’!

Ever since then, we’ve been evolving our Marine coolers, like adding MaxCold insulation to certain sizes, integrating UV inhibitors and creating the elevated Marine Ultra line, while holding steadfast to the sunlight-reflecting, boat-matching, all-over white color throughout the collection. We determine these improvements by heading out into the field and having conversations with Marine users to hear first-hand what’s working and what could use some work.

And this year, we’re addressing a shared pain point by incorporating life-extending oversized hinges and hybrid latches on our Marine Ultra coolers! Just another update to make our (new and loyal) consumers happy...hook, line and sinker.
