New Product Development and Innovation

Zest always focuses on the needs of the consumer and the company's philosophy, when it comes to product development, is to spend time listening to today's garden enthusiasts through market research and focus groups. This is 'User Centred Design' at its best and your customers will love the results.

For the 2022 season, the company has built its dedicated new product development centre and recruited a Head of New Product Development, Neil Sholes, to drive the design of products tailored to today's consumer.

A Centre For New Product Development

Zest has invested upwards of £400,000 in product development facilities and personnel ahead of the 2022 season. The company has appointed Neil Sholes into a new role as Head of Product Design and Innovation and has also added a new product development centre at its headquarters.

Neil's remit for Zest is to spearhead a dedicated team researching and designing new products in line with consumer trends, meeting customer product requirements, and further developing key concepts such as 'easy to build'. The Innovation Centre is a state-of-the-art product design innovation suite including research and concept development, the latest CAD design technology, a prototype build area, a production studio, and a marketing zone.

In response to consumer demand for outdoor living and entertaining, the Garden Bar and 2 Stool set combines a space saving solution and versatile storage with the benefit of creating the perfect party space.

The new Garden bar, is quick and easy to set up by simply opening the two main storage doors to make a sturdy base for the fold down counter which acts as a bar. Opening the side panel hinged doors reveals fully fitted cabinet shelving ready to display a range of drinks and glasses. Guests can sit comfortably at the bar by removing the two sturdy stools which are conveniently stored inside the base section.

The innovative design of the compact shape opens up to make a great entertaining space. When not in use, the stools are simply stored away, the bar counter and doors neatly folded back into place and secured with fasteners. Made from FSC®- C114990, sustainable slow grown soft wood from responsibly managed forests.

Pressure treated and comes with a 10 year guarantee against rot.

Freya Dining & Furniture Range

Rectangular Table, 2 Benches & 2 Chairs

The Freya design presents a new design aesthetic and incorporates alternate width wooden slats cleverly spaced to make a very comfortable ergonomic seating shape. The extended high back improves comfort and support but also gives a sense of drama and presence to the outdoor dining experience. The encompassing style and presence of the Freya Dining Set offers the customer value for money through good design and premium appearance.

All details of the product have been considered, particularly the width and length of the arm rests, which provide maximum arm support as well as allowing space to rest a glass with a modern and contemporary look.

Part of Zest's new Easy Build range, the Freya dining set is designed with fewer components for simple assembly using bolts. To suit any size of outdoor space the range offers a choice of furniture combinations including two or three seater benches, round or rectangular tables, chairs and a companion seat for two.

Made from FSC®- C114990, sustainable slow grown soft wood from responsibly managed forests, its pressure treated and comes with a 10 year guarantee against rot.
