Annie with Alex is a mother daughter collaboration with a long history of bag making.

Our story starts with Annie's Dad Syd, who was a Merchant Naval Officer on the first RMS Queen Mary. Syd's creative passion was designing and developing practical items for himself and the family, items included: building his own yacht, an art studio in the garden and making bags out of old redundant sails.

Like Syd Annie and Alex have inherited his creative genes for bag making and have been making bags for friends and family for years and in 2017 decided to share our bags with you.

Annie with Alex make bags in styles and fabrics that have a variety of purposes for you in and out of the home. One bag = variety of uses (Not Another Beach can be used as a beach bag in the summer, but in winter its large enough for welly boots!)

By using luxury cottons, linens and wools all of our bags are washable. So no matter how long you are the owner of one of our bags, they will continue to look good!

We continually update our colours so do get in touch to see the latest colours we have!
