Welcome to the 2020 edition of the Spike Leisurewear catalogue

“The times they are a-changin’”

These lyrics, written by Bob Dylan in 1964, were certainly relevant to that era – but how much more so today? Nowadays the times are seemingly changing by the week as the foundations of everything (politics, climate, the environment etc) are shifting under our feet.

The lesson we learn from history is that the world never stands still, nothing stays the same and the times are a/ways a-changin. Some people naturally assume change is for the worst, but it is often for the good and leads to a better world.

Businesses must change too and embrace new fashions, trends and technology. At Spike Leisurewear we have never been afraid of change and believe it is more important than ever to offer our customers fresh, innovative designs on a regular basis.

This catalogue you are holding in your hands is our biggest yet, containing 100 pages. You will find an expanded range of licensed socks, new ranges of Monty Python and Dad’s Army t-shirts and a much larger souvenir section – amongst much else, of course.

If you are already a customer, thank you for your business and support. If you are not yet a customer, I hope we can work together this year.

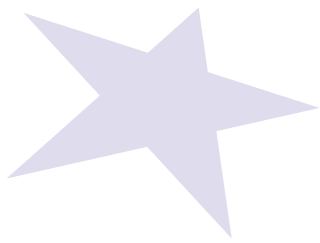

In these uncertain times let’s embrace change! As the American billionaire John D Rockefeller said, the secret of success is simple: “Get up early, work late – and strike oil!”

Have a successful year!

Best wishes

Richard.

...what can we do for you?

Our Ethical Policy

Working hard to be an ethical company AND protect our planet

As a company, we understand our responsibility towards the environment and our local community. As a family (we have three children who are vegan) we are being educated in how to protect the planet and the benefits of a plant-based diet.

We have many stories to share about the steps we are taking to reduce the use of plastic, increase the amount we can all recycle, and minimise waste. We are trying to do our bit to help look after Mother Earth as well as looking after you, our customers.

We are committed to trading fairly ensuring everyone in our supply chain is treated with respect at all times.

We source responsibly and sustainably from suppliers who are equally committed to maintaining our high standards. We insist on production levels that have low environmental and social impact.

We purchase as much as we can from the UK supporting our economy, reducing transport miles and our carbon impact.

We work with our suppliers helping them reduce packaging and encourage recycling within our customer base.

We use as little plastic as possible and aim to eliminate it altogether. The plastic that we do use is recycled, and recyclable.

We value our wonderful team and do everything we can to provide a friendly, welcoming and safe working environment.

MONTY PYTHON

The Monty Python television series first aired on the BBC in 1969 and quickly gained a cult following, particularly amongst students. 45 programmes were made between 1969 and 1974, which were followed by several films including Monty Python and the Holy Grail.

The Pythons' had a unique, irreverent style and their influence on comedy has been compared to the Beatles' influence on music.

But there was no such person as Monty Python - the name was made up by John Cleese and Eric Idle. Other names considered were "Owl Stretching Time," "The Toad Elevating Moment," "A Horse, a Spoon, and a Basin," and "Bumwacket, Buzzard, Stubble and Boot." "Monty Python's Flying Circus" only stuck because the BBC informed the group they had already printed their programming schedules and the name couldn't be changed.

DAD'S ARMY

Dad's Army is one of the most popular comedy series ever shown in the UK. Although the first episode was aired over 50 years ago, repeats are still regularly shown on BBC2 and UK Gold. At its most popular, the programme attracted audiences of 18 million, which meant about half of the UK's adult population was watching!

The show's famous catchphrases, "Don't Panic!", "We're Doomed" and "Stupid Boy" are captured on this lovely range of t-shirts and socks.

DOCTOR WHO

The Doctor Who television series has been on our screens since 1963. The programme is about the adventures of a Time Lord called "the Doctor", an extraterrestrial being from the planet Gallifrey. The Doctor explores the universe in a time-travelling space ship called the TARDIS, which appears as a blue British police box.

The latest Doctor Who (there have been 12 previously) is played by Jodie Whittaker, who is the first woman Doctor. This programme is one of the most successful in the history of British television and is exported to over a hundred countries.

Mr Bean™

Rowan Atkinson originally created a character called Mr Bean while he was studying for his master's degree at Oxford University. The television series that followed centred on Mr. Bean, described by Atkinson as "a child in a grown man's body", as he solves various problems presented by everyday tasks and often causes disruption in the process.

During its original five-year run, Mr. Bean met with widespread acclaim and attracted television audiences of nearly 20 million. The series has been sold to over 200 countries, has inspired a cartoon spin-off and even two feature-length movies (so far). Mr. Bean even appeared at the opening ceremony of the London 2012 Olympic Games.
