

Midnight Peacock

Inspiration for the Midnight Peacock collection came from the very origins of the beautiful species after which the range is named.

The Midnight Peacock came from specially breeding green peafowls in order to create a desirable creature which was highly opulent and stylish in looks.

The Peacock design is laser cut from the mirrored black exterior, and beautifully highlighted by the rich gold interior which shines through!

Each of the five shapes in the collection are sold as sets of two, and come packed in smart boxes.

Peacock

Peacock has received a huge amount of publicity due to its unique look – a fantastically detailed peacock feather design on the exterior of the glass, where the colour gradiates from emerald green to a rich turquoise. This is complemented by the mirrored electroplated interior which reflects the feathered pattern within.

Due to the popularity of Peacock the range has grown considerably from its initial launch of just the Wine & Martini glasses. First with the addition of the Flute & Tumbler; then the Gin Glass in 2017, and now the Champagne Saucer and Hurricane Lamp!

Tropical Leaves

Artland's Tropical Leaves range is exotic in more ways than one!

There is a huge amount happening within each mouthblown glass. The outside of every bowl has a mirrored silvered finish from which is laserered out a rich foliage of leaves most commonly found in the rainforest! These leaves are made richer still by the soft green metallic interior which glows through the leaf silhouette and really makes it stand out from the silver.

Alongside the six drinking glasses in the range, being a wine glass, gin bowl, champagne saucer, martini glass and tumbler, Tropical Leaves also has within its collection two striking hurricane lamps, which when lit up look even more sensational!

Neon

Neon is unlike anything most have seen before.

The bottom of every bowl is decorated with three different colours, each electric hue taking up a third, and seamlessly changing from one to the next.

This is twinned with a crackle effect throughout the coloured area. Which, whilst it seems to run throughout the glass, can hardly be felt on the surface at all.

Through this combination of several techniques, each mouth blown glass is not only unique, but mesmerising to look at.

Available open stock in Flutes, Wines, Gins and Tumblers.

Coppertino

Artland's Coppertino range is yet another fantastic example of their ability to design and create modern glassware with a difference.

The base of each of the contemporary, angular bowls is decorated with a hammer finished plating. This look is added to further by the dual colouring – with a smart, copper colouring on the outside and reflective silver inside.

Each piece in the range is mouth blown and hand finished.

Highgate

Pressed glass is becoming increasingly popular as due to its robust nature it is ideal for use at home or within the hospitality environment. Not only this, but pressing, rather than blowing glass, allows you to push the complexity of the design. Highgate is a fantastic example of this, where the sloping gradient within the diamond design creates a highly tactile finish.

The colour of all four glasses is within the glass itself, and not sprayed on, making this range safe to use in the dishwasher.

Highgate comes beautifully gift boxed in a set of four assorted colours.

Mirage

Artland's Mirage has a brilliant and mesmerising design which changes from jewel purple to blue, to green and gold... and back again!

The crisp and clear bowls of the flute, wine and gin glass, sit atop a stem and foot plate which are completely coated in the most incredible multi-coloured, metallic decoration.

The DOF Tumbler has the same effect covering the bottom third of the glass, still allowing for that great mix of colour and clarity.

Due to the unique nature of the manufacturing process the order and thickness of the coloured bands will be different on every glass.

Each piece is hand crafted and mouth blown.

Mixology

Artland's Mixology collection is where cocktail making meets alchemy! Each cork topped decanter is reminiscent of a beaker which you'd expect to find in a chemistry lab.

Made from borosilicate, each of these contemporary decanters is decorated with the name of a different spirit on the front, and a measuring line on the reverse.

Artland have also truly outdone themselves with the gift packaging, as each piece comes safely held within its own wooden crate, with text branded on to the back.

Liqueur Sets

The assortment of liqueur sets is one of the most recognised and popular ranges from the Artland collection and has helped make the Artland brand so popular.

Each glass is mouth blown and hand crafted in one of the very few factories which still retain the skills to produce these miniature glasses.

The long and short stem liqueurs each have six differently shaped bowls and an assortment of jewel tone colours within the glass, ensuring that no matter how often these delightful glasses are used, the colour can never come off. To further improve the offer, the sets come with a silver coloured tray to make these a wonderful gift.
