Dawn Chorus is a wonderfully whimsical addition to the BIA collection, and perfect for the Easter market – or simply a really fun and colourful breakfast table.

The range brings some fantastic new shapes in to the BIA assortment, each one designed to best show off the two co-ordinating designs, as well as a brand new pattern. The range comprises a mug, breakfast bowl, egg cup, spoon rest and a salt and pepper in each of the two different colours.

The design has been 100% hand painted on to a high quality stoneware ceramic, and should give years of enjoyment as you start your day!

Totem brings some real innovation to an area of the market which seems to be constantly growing!

Totem's uniqueness comes in the fact that each storage jar is not one, but instead three separate smaller jars which seamlessly fit together!

Each one of the three layers has a silicone seal attached to the lid to ensure the contents are kept fresh.

Camel & Elephant

Our much loved Elephant and Camel teapots have been part of our collections for many years, but their popularity has never waned!

The introduction of the gold and platinum teapots in 2015 have been a huge success, and as such we have now also added plated versions of the white elephant creamer and sugar, which we launched at the beginning of 2016.

Since then, new for 2018, we added further with the introduction of the Elephant Teabag Tidies.

Each piece is made of porcelain and has a fantastically detailed relief.

Hobnail Teapots

First introduced in 2012, the Hobnail Teapot's popularity has grown over the years, as has the popularity of loose and green tea. Designed to look identical to the oriental cast iron teapots, these stoneware replicas have pulled off the emulation almost perfectly!

Available in five colours, all come gift boxed with two cups. With hospitality in mind, all five teapots are also available without the gift box or cups as an alternative.

They all come with a high quality metal filter; which has been especially designed so that the lid may lock in to it, which stops it from falling out whilst pouring.

With their classic patterns the plates and platters offer the ideal surfaces for presentation... and of course, no cheese range would be complete without a camembert baker!

Originally intended to be just an additional Camembert baker to sit alongside the Classic Camembert collection, both Cow's Head & Vintage instead became small ranges of their own.

Egg Coddlers

BIA's reinvention of the egg coddler with modern designs was first brought in at the very end of 2015, and was an instant hit!

A clean and simple way of poaching eggs, the coddlers are easy to use. Simply add oil or butter to the inside, crack in an egg or two, add any ingredients you wish, gently screw the lid back on, and add to boiling water for around ten minutes. Once ready, you can eat it straight from the coddler.

Eggs have always been a popular breakfast, but poaching eggs can be a messy business! The ease of using the egg coddler, coupled with the ability to add ham and cheese, smoked salmon and cracked pepper, or whatever else you like, makes the coddler a fantastic item!

All ten different designs come gift boxed with serving suggestions, and come in a counter display unit in packs of six.

BIA's Matte Jars make for wonderful storage, and are the perfect solution to having loose garlic, onions or potatoes in your kitchen.

Available in two different colours, white and black – each with a matte finish.

Within both colours three different jars are available: a beautifully large Potato storage jar, a generously sized onion jar, and a great garlic jar.

Each of the jars is crafted in stoneware and has a plaque with the relevant usage reversed out.

Heritage

Heritage is a beautifully retro design, with its wavy edges and stamped pattern. Originally launched at the end of 2014, it was swiftly shortlisted for the Housewares Innovation Awards.

The range comprises seven different shapes, each available in two colours, including a beautifully sized casserole, two roasters and flan dishes, a ramekin and, fitting in with the vintage look and feel, a loaf pan.

Heritage is made from durable stoneware, and is fully microwave, dishwasher, freezer and oven safe.
