EQUAL7

Rule your roll

Luck won't help you with this puzzle — but you might wish it would! Equal7 is a mathematical masterpiece with two different challenges, each a different level of difficulty. Tilt the cube and slide the dice to and fro, until all the dots on each side equal the same number — 10, 11, and 12 are all possible combinations, with more than one way to get there. Once you've conquered those combinations, the real test is getting to seven — Equal7! Once you've solved it, present your achievement on its own built-in pedestal. Now the puzzle is your trophy!

BRAIN DICE

Finally a puzzle where you can win every roll!

Place all six dice randomly in their molded chambers, then turn the knobs until the combinations on all sides equals the number of pips on the dice.

Don't think it's worth the gamble? Well, it's not as dicey as you think. With literally thousands of numeric combinations, there is always a solution... all it takes it just one more roll.

ICOSOKU

Matching dots to numbers

Place the number tiles in random slots, then match the number of dots on all five intersecting triangles to each tile. All done, right? Not so fast. Now you can build your next challenge — simply swap a few number tiles and the game continues! Remember: a solution is always just around the next twist. With the perfect geometry of an icosahedron, Icosoku can be solved every single try!

BRAINSTRING ORIGINAL

It's knot what you think

The mystery of Brainstring Original isn't just how to untie a twisted 'knot' of strings in the center, but how it can be that all its strings can be interchanged— WITHOUT creating a knot! Four groups of different colored strings, four strings per group, moving up, down and around all six sides of a polycarbonate shell... beyond just tying or untying a knot, what kind of beautiful symmetries can you create? Brainstring Original isn't just a puzzle — it's a work of art.

BRAINSTRING 'R'

Take it for a spin

Just as knotty as the original, Brainstring 'R' features an internal sphere with 360-degree spin. Twist, turn, stretch and slide the colored buttons in every direction to unravel the twist of strings in the centre. Congratulations, you've solved the puzzle — but now can you re-tie the 'knot'? This one will have you on the ropes!

"YES" Bars

Y-E-S is the easy part! Rearrange all three individually symmetrical metal letters until you have a single symmetrical shape. There's only one solution though — and you may be saying "no" after a few attempts before you successfully say "Yes!"

Chichen Itza

Chichen Itza, ancient capital of the Mayan civilization, is famed for its pyramid temples and giant steps. Can you summon the wisdom to create two different symmetrical shapes? There is a hint in this description...!

The Chimera

Two crafted metal pieces that form one symmetrical image — is it a sign? A building? Perhaps it's a person, you think, as you try another combination... but with limitless ways to join them, and only a single unique solution, you'll find that this puzzle is a real headscratcher!

Broken Twig

Think sharp! Rearrange the custom metal "twigs" until they form a shape with identical sides. With only two pieces, and with not just one but two solutions, you may find this puzzle stickier than expected!
