

STACKERS

BRAND PACK

Introduction

The Stackers brand was born 10 years ago, and makes up a large part of LC Designs, our family business which was established 1922. The business is now into its 4th generation and still thriving.

Stackers originated from the love of organisation and the idea that everything has its own place.

Our range launched with the patented 'create your own jewellery box' concept, and now extends into to unique designs for home, travel, lifestyle cosmetics and more.

We have a team of very talented designers in our studio, based just outside London, who work to design and create different products that you won't find elsewhere.

Currently stocked globally in 42 countries, the Stackers brand is well established in many markets and continues to grow.

Our aim is to help our customers stay beautifully organised, everyday.

ORIGINAL CONCEPT

Our patented stackable jewellery boxes were the original product that launched us into the world of beautiful organisation.

By choosing different layers and stacking them on top of each other, customers can create their own unique jewellery box that caters to their specific jewellery collection.

Our boxes come in three sizes and a huge variety of colours and layouts. We also have additional accessories to customise the jewellery box further, such as our watch pads and charm bars
