PRIMEHIDE

Direct dispatch

Also known as Drop-Shipping, Direct Dispatch is in increasing demand amongst our client base.

The process is simple: you list the products on your site but you hold no stock. When you sell an item, you place an order for the same item on our website, inserting your customer details in the shipping address section. We post the item on your behalf, in line with our shipping terms direct to your customer with no paperwork.

Please note: our products are branded and we do not offer a re-branding service. However, occasionally, we may be able to offer 'white label' on some products or alternately we can produce branded items with flexible MOQ's.

Fulfilment and Storage

If you choose for us to produce a range of branded products for you, and have no extra space for storage, we can store the products on your behalf. We can then ship them out to you, or your clients, as and when you choose for a nominal fee, via a selection of National and Global Carriers. Speak to us if you just want to use our storage.
