SUSTAINABILITY PRACTICES

Sun and Sand Studios are an environmentally conscious agency always ready to face future challenges. With factories who are committed to reducing the ecological impact of non-biodegradable waste and conserve new renewable natural resources. All our suppliers are Oeko-tex Eco certified, and even surpass European eco standards.

Our fabric printers are committed to reducing energy consumption and pollution through the integration of sustainable processes and technologies that are more respectful to the environment. Using a direct method of colouring during the extrusion process instead of traditional water-based dyeing, and recycling process of post-industrial and post-consumer waste to avoid the use of virgin polymer.

By shipping all our fabrics and products by sea, it reduces our greenhouse gas emissions considerably to ensure the finished products maintain below a below average carbon footprint whilst still maintaining short delivery lead times averages between 5-7 days. We also focus our main suppliers within Europe, Turkey and Tunisia to ensure the global footprint of fabrics and trims is kept to a minimum.

We strive to always be up to date with the most recent sustainable developments, and as a result we can produce an almost fully sustainable products to include all components, from fabrics and trims to labels to packaging.

ECO FIBRES & SUSTAINABLE FABRICS

Eco-fibres we offer in our sustainable fabrics:

Q-NOVA®

Made from more than half by preconsumption waste, these materials were unusable and would have been disposed of as external waste. It is an environmentally-sustainable recycled Nylon, 6.6 fibre obtained from regenerated raw materials in accordance with present-day traceability criteria and requirements. More than 50% of Q-NOVA® fibre comes from recycled materials.

ECONYL®

Regenerated nylon is made from waste such as fishing nets from the oceans and aquaculture and fabric scraps from mills and carpets destined for landfill. It's exactly the same as virgin nylon and can be recycled, recreated and remoulded infinitely, meaning you create new products and buy new products without ever having to use new fibres.

SEQUAL®

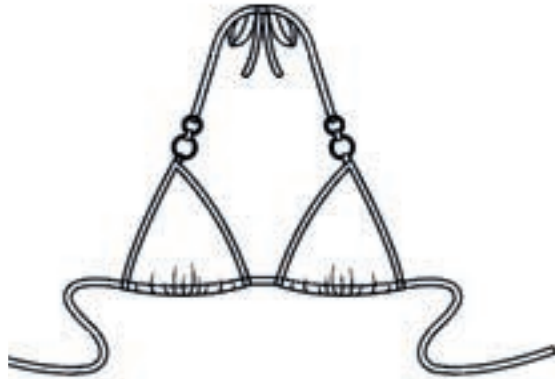

Made from high quality polyester yarns from recycled materials. 10% of which is from upcycled plastic marine litter and the remaining 90% from post-consumer PET (such as plastic bottles). The initiative helps preserve natural resources and the keep the oceans cleaner, reusing polyamide threads to give a second chance to materials that would otherwise be waste.
