Francis Wacziarg is a company owned by a Franco-Indian family. Widely recognized as a one-stop shop for retailers, we specialize in sourcing textiles, apparel, soft furnishings, and accessories at globally competitive prices.

With over four decades of industry experience, we are dedicated to helping global brands build and grow their businesses—our commitment is driven by a genuine passion for delivering tangible value. Operating from five offices (four in India and one in Bangladesh), our team of over 100 professionals works closely with some of the industry's best factories. We are proud to offer world-class products, supported by outstanding design, merchandising, and quality assurance.

THE LEGACY OF FRANCIS WACZIARG

OUR FOUNDER For over 40 years, the Wacziarg family strives to be a bridge between the West and the East. Francis Wacziarg, born French but on a Portuguese ship on American seas, took on Indian citizenship because of his love for the country, which he visited for the first time after completing his MBA of commerce, in 1969. He sensed that this millennial civilization had a huge potential to adapt and grow. After being a commercial attaché at the French consulate in Mumbai and then heading the Banque Nationale de Paris (BNP) Delhi branch, Francis felt he had gained enough knowledge of India to launch his own consultancy, successfully introducing brands like Lacoste, Boiron and Accor to the subcontinent. His eye for fashion led him to set up a buying house for sourcing garments, hard goods and home furnishing. Additionally, the brand Francis Wacziarg grew organically thanks to his passion, his honesty and, very simply, his kindness.

OUR DIRECTOR

Aude Priya, born in Mumbai, spent the first half of her life between France and Italy. With a Master's in Mathematics and a Doctorate in Ancient Science, she pursued an academic career as a professor and researcher in Ancient Greek, while also earning recognition as an accomplished opera singer.

In 2013, she moved to India to be closer to her ailing father and to adopt three Indian children.

Rooted in a shared family vision, she is committed to merging Indian creativity with the precision and standards of Western expertise.

Aude Priya believes that in today's rapidly evolving India, the role of a cultural and technical liaison is more important than ever—not just to bridge East and West, but to help drive the adoption of new knowledge and skills.

“INHERITED VALUES”

are the core values that shape every aspect of our work—reflected consistently in how we engage with our customers, collaborate with our suppliers, and support our internal teams.
