STOCK LIST FOR RETAILERS

IN 1905 Captain Peabody Fawcett R.N Ret'd, the intrepid and eminent Edwardian explorer, disappeared whilst attempting to navigate to the source of the Ubangi, a major tributary to the Congo River. No trace was ever found of his seemingly doomed expedition... until that is, in 1997, an old battered trunk purchased at a house clearance sale, was taken home and its locks forced. Incredibly, amongst its decaying and mildewed contents was found an exquisite dressing case containing salves, unguents, ointments and the missing adventurers long lost journals. Scattered amongst the many tales of hardship, derring do and wonders seen, where one was expected to "keep a stiff upper lip, regardless", were found meticulously detailed lists of exotic ingredients for use in the Captain's very own grooming requisites. These precise formulae have been faithfully followed and Fawcett's original potions, along with his world renowned Moustache Wax are now available to the discerning gentleman for the first time in over a century.

Nebula

A TRUE STORY

Several years ago I was given Captain Fawcett's Moustache Wax Cornucopia as a gift from my wife Rena. I was immediately drawn in by the amazing scents, quality of the product, beautiful presentation & whimsical creative lore present throughout the design. I instantly became a die-hard fan & loyal customer. Years later I received an email from The Captain. A member of his crew, who happened to be a guitar player & a Dream Theater fan, recognized my name on an order. Through some coordinated social media posts, the beginnings of a new creative relationship took root. As a professional musician, I truly believe that the most successful & artistically rewarding partnerships happen organically & this was no different. At the end of February 2020, I finally met Corey, the aforementioned guitarist at Dream Theater's show in London & told him that if The Captain was ever interested in developing a Signature Beard Oil with a certain bearded guitarist, I'd be onboard in a heartbeat! And there you have it... a few weeks later we had our first Skype meeting. I met The Captain's Right-Hand Man and a few members of his brilliant artistic team & we were immediately discussing everything from scents to packaging to launch ideas. I could tell from that very moment that our creative partnership would most definitely yield something incredibly special & just like that, the John Petrucci Nebula Signature Series became a reality!

Scapicchio Shaving Soap

FIG, OLIVE AND BAY RUM 110G / 3.88OZ

NEW

Captain Fawcett is delighted to have collaborated with Luigi Scapicchio in producing this Signature Series Fig, Olive and Bay Rum Shaving Soap, contributing to the ultimate shave experience. Evviva! The inspiration for this gloriously scented, luxuriant Shaving Soap is born from the abundant Fig and Olive groves to be found in the Scapicchio family's native Puglia. A hint of West Indian Bay Rum, a traditional hair tonic, has been added for good measure creating a fusion of both the Old World and the New.

The soap's refreshing fragrance pays homage to Luigi's great grandfather who emigrated to Chicago in 1910 and established his first Italian barbershop. Vincenzo was in time to become one of Al Capone's trusted personal barbers... but therein lies another story.

Soap made in Great Britain.

Fully Adjustable Double Edged Safety Razor

IN COLLABORATION WITH ROCKWELL RAZORS

Captain Fawcett, himself no stranger to the maxim that 'necessity is the mother of invention', is likewise a huge admirer of the innovative skills expounded by his dear chums over at Rockwell. These frightfully clever chaps are the creators of the world renowned, patented, fully adjustable 6C double edge safety razor designed for all skin types and stubble length. It's a wonder to behold, fusing both form and everyday function and, as such, one is to be found in the Captain's very own personal grooming arsenal. How this collaboration came about is quite a story in itself however suffice to say that the plot was hatched over several whisky sours in the King Edward Hotel, downtown Toronto. As a result Captain Fawcett has been granted permission to utilise Rockwell's design whilst adding some elegant adjustments to suit his own discerning taste.

Synthetic Fibre Shaving Brush

VEGAN FRIENDLY

Traditionally the very best shaving brushes were crafted using farmed Badger hair, due in no small part to the excellent water retaining properties of the cuticle. However after no little research, the bods in the backroom have come up with a rather fine alternative and developed a synthetic fibre possessing incredibly soft tips, that are beneficial to those with sensitive skin whilst replicating the brush properties required for a simply superb shave. As such Captain Fawcett is delighted to unveil his vegan friendly, sustainably sourced wooden handled, synthetic fibre shaving brush.

Horn Beard Comb with Leather Case

HAND MADE IN ENGLAND

My beautifully English made Ox Horn combs are made from keratin, the same protein that forms your own hair, ensuring it will glide through your hair effortlessly without snagging, creating static or damaging the cuticle of the hair.

Each handmade comb is unique in colour. Natural horn is durable & will last a lifetime if properly cared for. Simply hand-wash in cold water using a mild soap and allow to air-dry. Limit exposure to sun & don't leave to soak. Regular use will allow your hair to maintain a healthy looking shine. If you use beard oil this will naturally nourish your comb.
