Welcome

SHOWING WE CARE - SUSTAINABILITY AT KLEINE WOLKE

Kleine Wolke works responsibly in the interests of the environment, the climate and of future generations. This is what our ECO range of products - made from renewable raw materials and recycled materials - is all about.

In collaboration with our suppliers, we have developed an eco-friendly manufacturing process using sustainable materials produced under fair conditions. We are committed to initiatives such as „amfori BSCI“ for fair working conditions in global supply chains and SEAQUAL, a cooperation involving manufacturers, scientists and fishermen aimed at cleaning up the oceans. We also have our products certified by Standard 100 Oeko-Tex® and V-Label (vegetarian/vegan products), and others. Together with our production partners, we have also taken an important step forward with our packaging this year: now most of our materials are plastic-free or recycled.

With our sustainability concept for bathroom rugs, soap dispensers, shower curtains and towels, we are still just at the beginning. We constantly review our operations, our supply chains and our products. We strive to make products that are beautiful and practical, that are long lasting and that you can purchase with a clear conscience. Be part of this vision by choosing a bathroom rug, a soap dispenser or a towel from our ECO-Collection.

*Think sustainably
ecologically!*

Our bathroom rugs*, terry towelling and bedding bear the „Textiles Vertrauen“ (Confidence in Textiles) certification mark. Textiles tested for harmful substances according to Standard 100 Oeko-Tex®. This gives our customers the certainty that they are buying a product that is completely free of pollutants and harmful substances. With strict guidelines for our suppliers and constant quality controls, Kleine Wolke guarantees that the necessary standards are adhered to in the supply and process chain.
* exception: bathroom rugs made from recycled materials

Kleine Wolke towels and many terry mats are marked with the V-label. The V-Label is an internationally recognised, registered seal for vegan and vegetarian products. It serves as an important consumer decision-making tool and represents safety, clarity and a sense of orientation. Products bearing this label are produced in a way that ensures that no animal derived substances or additives are used in their production process.

Amfori BSCI is a leading corporate initiative that improves working conditions in global supply chains. Upon joining, participants commit to involving their suppliers in the amfori BSCI process. The amfori BSCI Code of Conduct defines the values and principles that BSCI participants and their business partners strive to implement in their supply chains. This helps to improve social and environmental performance across the board.

A RANGE MADE FROM RENEWABLE RAW MATERIALS

COTTON

Cotton is a natural product and has traditionally been a favourite material for bathroom rugs, as it offers many advantages. It can absorb up to 20% its own weight in moisture without feeling wet. It feels pleasant against the skin and is hard-wearing. In addition, the high-quality woven cotton is breathable and temperature-regulating.

ORGANIC COTTON

No pesticides or herbicides are used in the cultivation of organic cotton, and water consumption is lower than on conventional plantations.

BAMBOO

Bamboo - a natural product made from renewable resources. Bamboo is one of the fastest growing plants in the world and has hardwood-like properties. Kleine Wolke's wooden mats are very durable and extremely hygienic: no moisture is absorbed, but evaporates quickly from the surface. They bring a natural ambience to your bathroom.

NATURAL RUBBER

100% natural rubber – freshly tapped from Mother Nature. All-round protection provided by our safety mats made from natural rubber - a renewable raw material obtained from the milky sap of the rubber tree. Our safety mats made of natural rubber help to preserve the natural environment and offer maximum safety in your bathtub or shower.

Eco-Care

A RANGE MADE FROM RECYCLED MATERIALS

RECYCLED COTTON

Turning old into new! With recycled cotton, old scraps of fabric are spun into new yarns and used to make new bathroom rugs. This not only ensures that resources are sustainably conserved, but also means that the production process is particularly environmentally friendly. The process itself is a mechanical recycling method that does not involve the use of chemical substances.

Recycled cotton offers many advantages. It is kind to the skin, hard-wearing, breathable and temperature regulating.

RECYCLED PLASTIC

Kleine Wolke turns old PET bottles into wonderfully fluffy bathroom rugs.

The yarn obtained from the PET bottles is processed in a highly energy-saving manufacturing procedure and used in the production of our bathroom rugs. Approximately 38 PET bottles are needed for 1 kg of yarn.

The high-quality processed polyester is not only a very hard-wearing and durable material, it is also highly absorbent and gentle on the skin.

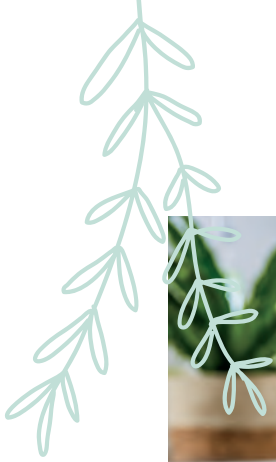

RECYCLED GLASS

Glass is the undisputed champion of recycled materials, as it can be 100% recycled an infinite number of times. And this is also how our beautiful bathroom accessories are created from used bottles. The state-of-the-art production techniques used guarantee that the production process is of high quality and energy-efficient. When processing recycled glass, it is possible to work with considerably lower temperatures than when producing new glass.

A respectful and sustainable approach to the natural world and to our valuable resources is something that is in the interest of all generations. This is why we want to send a clear signal on how important it is to protect our environment. We redesigned our packaging last year to make most of the materials plastic-free.

We use as little packaging as possible, but as much as is necessary to protect our products in the best possible way and to achieve an appealing visual appearance at the POS.
