Joyful Children's Mealtime Essentials
Inspired by a True Story

hello

Chomp is a multi award-winning, joyful and eco-conscious children's tableware brand inspired by a true story that will bring a smile to little ones and parents alike.

Mealtimes can be challenging for both parents and babies, it's also an exciting journey full of joy and discovery. As parents, we strive to make smart choices that not only benefit our little ones but also consider the environment and our pockets. That's where Chomp comes in - an award-winning, British kitchenware brand designed by a mother who understands the struggles of family mealtimes first hand.

Our premium feeding essentials empower your baby's sense of independence and adventure with joy and practicality at their heart. We're passionate about celebrating baby's big milestones and supporting parents on their little ones' adventures with simple feeding solutions thoughtfully designed with purpose, to make babyhood easier.

Chomp combines quality, modern aesthetics and functionality to make feeding exploration easy and fun for your child, whilst offering easy care to parents. Our Dinnerware is available in a range of on-trend hues and designed to engage your little ones, Chomp is a family essential created to bring more fun to your feeding adventures.

Chomp is a mum-founded, British baby brand based in Tunbridge Wells, Kent

Inspired by a true story

I'm Amber, Chomp Founder, Kent resident and mum of 2 lovely kids. Like most parents, I found those early years incredibly rewarding and challenging in equal measure!

My son was a picky feeder. He wasn't particularly interested in food and I wasn't particularly fond of the mountains of plastic tableware that would pour out of my kitchen cupboards on a daily basis! One day, when I served him dinner and noticed the plastic plate had a sharp crack, I knew there must be a better way for us and the planet. I decided to leave my full time marketing role so I could focus on building a brand I felt passionate about for my family and yours.

Chomp combines modern style and functionality to make feeding exploration easy and fun for your child, whilst offering easy care to parents. Our sustainable products facilitate your little one's feeding development, they provide joy at mealtimes, they reduce stress (and mess!) and they look nice too. Our product's durability ensures you can buy once and they will last through your weaning journey and beyond.

Weaning requires a huge amount of care and time from parents so when you spend up to 3 hours feeding a day, I believe those moments should be enjoyable for the whole family.
