About Born Bizzy

Born Bizzy is the brainchild of two mums, Hannah and Rachael. We spent our first maternity leave together keeping each other company while raising our tiny humans.

Now with energetic preschoolers each to entertain, we found ourselves frustrated at the single-use nature of so many children's products that were a one hit wonder with our kids.

And so Born Bizzy was born in September 2023.

A brand that makes taking little people out easy. A brand that champions mess-free, portable and reusable fun for when you're on the move. A brand that is a more sustainable choice, made to last, that you can feel good about supporting.

Our first product range to launch is our Born Bizzy reusable silicone drawing mats. The range of mats have been purposefully designed to capture the attention of the bizziest little people and rest assured, we've road tested them on some very energetic kids!

We love them, our kids love them and we think your customers will too.

Silicone Drawing Mats

Offering little people endless hours of fun on the go, our reusable silicone drawing mats are made from 100% food-grade silicone and available in two sizes with a range of captivating designs.

Kids can colour, count and trace on repeat, using them again and again. The reverse side of the mat is a blank canvas perfect for free drawing.

The best part? They simply wipe clean with water.

They're wonderful for travel, restaurants, doctors appointments and more.

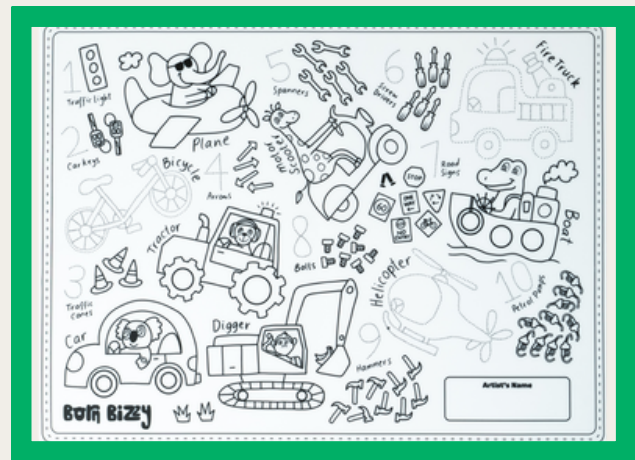

Bonus - they fit snugly in your handbag.
