This is an important document and you must read it in full

This document records the information you provided, and facts assumed about your business It should be read in conjunction with your policy documents.

This information has been considered when calculating the premium, terms and conditions applicable to your insurance.

Please remember that you must make a fair presentation of the risk. This means that you must:

- 1. disclose every material circumstance which you know or ought to know or, failing that, provide sufficient information to alert your insurer to make further enquiries; and
- 2. make such disclosure in a reasonably clear and accessible manner; and
- 3. ensure that, in such disclosure, any material representation as to a:
  - a. matter of fact is substantially correct; and
  - b. matter of expectation or belief is made in good faith.

A circumstance or representation is material if it would influence the insurer's judgement (as a prudent insurer) in determining whether to take the risk and, if so, on what terms. You must also make a fair presentation of the risk to your insurer in connection with any variations, e.g. changes you wish to make to your insurance, in which case you must inform Superscript.

If you fail to make a fair presentation of the risk, then this could affect the extent of cover provided or could invalidate your insurance. If you are in any doubt as to whether a circumstance is material, then you should disclose it anyway.

You must check all the information contained in this document and your policy documents and contact Superscript immediately if any details are incorrect or incomplete. Failure to do so may mean that your insurance is not valid, or your insurer may not be liable to pay all or some of your claims.

This document was produced on Saturday, 8 October 2022. Any subsequent alterations take precedence over the information contained within it.
