

Jason Morningstar, Founder/CEO

For the better part of 10 years, Jason built and renovated homes. This is where he noticed that the home inspection process could be improved upon. Jason went back to school to become a licensed Home Inspector. He then became a member of the OAH (Ontario Association of Home Inspectors), and a member of the CAHPI (Canadian Association of Home & Property Inspectors). With all this hard work poured into this education and certification, Jason did not stop there; he then founded Mspections Inc. which was dedicated to providing Kingston and the surrounding area with expert level housing inspection services.

After founding MSpections Inc., Jason rounded out his skillset in the property management world. Through his experiences he met Dan. With his Indigenous background, he recognized the problems many communities faced with real estate and knew he could help. In his spare time, Jason loves spending time with his two sons and dog. He also is a big fitness advocate and loves watching sports.
