WELCOME TO AYITI GALLERY

AYITI Gallery is an emerging fine art company championing under-recognized quality artists from Haiti. We are currently supporting 7 visionary artists, all living in Haiti.

We boost their career, expose and sell their art, and work towards their International recognition through marketing, networking, exhibitions, commissions and partnerships. Since 2016 we have successfully shown their art in 20 exhibitions and art fairs in London (UK) and placed their work in private collections.

We accompany seasonal art buyers and new collectors who search originality and novelty, and those who love and collect African art, Latin American art, outsider art, art brut, surrealism and abstract-expressionism. We help them discover new and hidden artists, acquire unique artworks, and diversify their collection through personalised, rewarding and cost-effective customer services. We also encourage them to become patron of art.

In this catalogue, we present you the works of our artists available for sale*. You will travel into their wonderlands and experience an inspirational journey of new discovery and self-discovery.

Let your senses go, free up your mind, and feel the soul and the spirit of Haiti waving on you.

* Prices are set in £ GBP, indicative and open to offers.

“Living in Haiti for years, I have been profoundly charmed and changed by the beauty and the magic of its culture. The creativity and the fertility of Haitian art has given me a new enlightenment to my life. In 2016, I started to share my passion and invest in few talented artists to support their practice, show their fascinating art and share their legacy to the world. As humanity awakens, I trust it is the perfect time to explore this vibrant and still secret art world.”

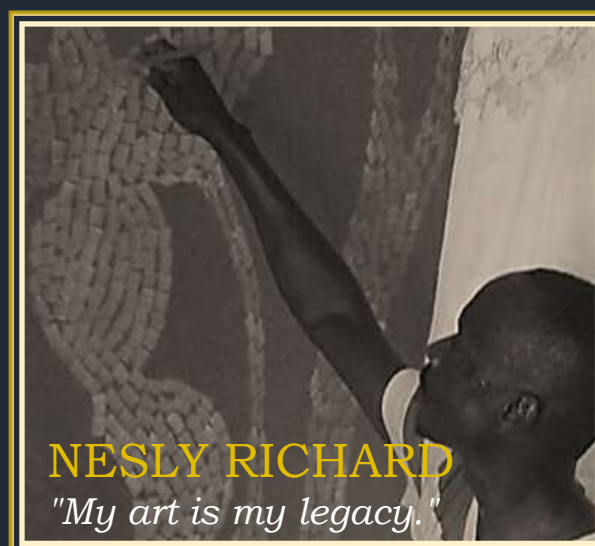

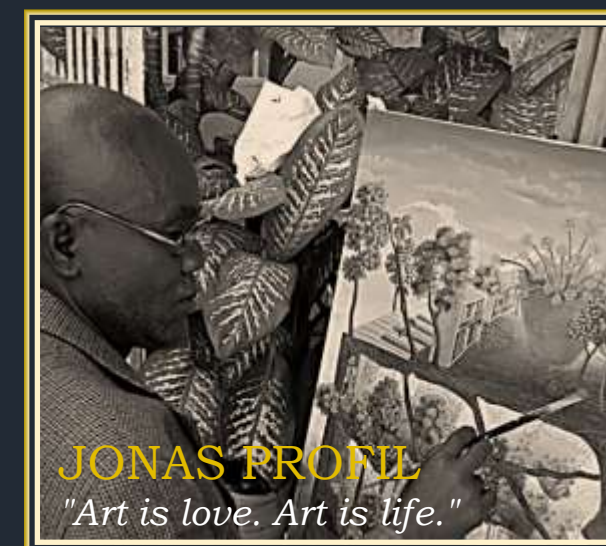

Alexandre Latour, Founder of AYITI Gallery

EXPLORE THE UNIVERSE OF HAITIAN ARTISTS AND...

"Beyond the physical world, we are aware of invisible worlds. We perceive and represent the unseen. We look inside. We use our inner eye. The eye of the soul. We transcend the reality. We have a sacred connection with a living force that inhabits our art. We feel it. It guides our creativity. Our art is a medium to express our feelings, our anger, our love. To open the eyes of the collective and heal it. We have reached a higher state of consciousness. We follow no rules. We have no barriers. Our art is authentic, narrative, and intuitive. It is spiritual, philosophical, and symbolical. Welcome to our collective mind."

...DISCOVER THE LIVING SOUL INHABITING THEIR ART

“We are alive. We are moving through all dimensions, from all directions. We are feelings. We open our world through the eyes and the touch of our creator, the artist, a gifted human soul. We are part of his world. We live the same world. You often see us staring at you, making you think, being disoriented but truly fascinated. We are talking to you. We are messengers. We are healers. We have something to tell you. Look at us. Your mind is starting to relax and your soul to speak. Welcome to our secret world.”

KAYAVA

Born in 1984 | Lives in Haiti

Kayava has been both spiritually guided and supported by his uncle who gave him his first pencil at the age of 12. Strongly inspired by invisible vibes he depicts a world where the voodoo spirits are brought to life to express and provoke the viewer's questioning. An up-and-coming Haitian artist, Kayava has been recognised as one of the most talented artists in the Caribbean. Interest for his works is growing fast and wide. Some see in Kayava the new Basquiat.

THE MYSTIC EYE Shadows & Utopia

"We live with spirits. They are part of us. They are watching us. I can see them, feel them, talk to them, represent them. They draw the lines, the forms, the colours of my art. Their shadows guide my inspiration. My art reflects the prophecy of the spirits. It expresses deep mystic, utopic, abyssal messages. Through my art I reveal to those who can see the hidden world of my culture and my religion."

MEET WITH THE CREATIVE MINDS OF HAITI

Our artists are remarkable for their ingenuity, their narrative and their artistic potential. They advance the discourse and the aesthetics of art by creating thoughtful, intricate and fascinating artworks.

Our artists remind us of renowned masters (Dali, Picasso, Bosch, Basquiat...) and their works are often associated with fundamental art movements (surrealism, cubism, pointillism, primitivism...).

However they are self-taught. They have established their own style. They don't duplicate any artist nor any trend. They never received any art education nor have a connection to art history nor have yet been greatly exposed to the global art world.

This isolation has preserved the authenticity of their art and freed them from Western influences.

Their creative imagination is deeply rooted into their culture. They find inspiration into their homeland Haiti, from its unique history and beliefs. It is what makes their art impressive and highly inventive.

Our artists are connected to the spiritual world. They are messengers. They demonstrate the value of nature, the essence of being human and the importance of being connected with one another. Their art is pure and intuitive. They address fundamental contemporary societal questions. They show us that life is about sharing, caring and loving.

"A beautiful collection of works and a unique array of artists."

Anna Gulyavskaya, American Visionary Museum

"Some quality artists who give me a deep look into their cultural legacy, existing struggles and search for personal fulfilment."

Alan Freshman, Art consultant

"These works appeal to collectors and museums who include African, Cuban and Brazilian works in their collections."

Tamzin Lovell, Sulger-Buel Lovell Gallery

MAKENOL PROFIL

Born in 1979 | Lives in Haiti

Makenol has pursued art ever since the day he took his first pencil from his uncle Jonas Profil on March 12th, 1998. Inspired by his cultural and spiritual roots he has gradually developed his own style picturing a surreal vision of rural life in Haiti where nature and humans live in synergy. Due to his unique fineness Makenol benefits from a fast growing International recognition.

SYNERGY Nature & Humanity

“Nature witnesses our actions and nurtures our beliefs. Nature conveys messages from the past to the present. My paintings reflect this synergy between trees & humans. They live together protecting & nurturing each other. My work invites you to enter a secret world. A world where you can visualize the peaceful nature of a true harmony. My stories illuminate those who still believe that Nature is an artefact.”

DIVE INTO THE SECRET WORLD OF HAITIAN ART

Haiti took its independence in 1804 to become the first black colony rejecting the Western imperialism. For two centuries, Haiti lived in absolute seclusion from outside trends and customs. Enduring long-lasting sufferance, the people of Haiti has given to its reality the forms of a dream, impregnated with mysticism. This idealisation is reflected in its art.

Born in the midst of deep social fractures, Haitian art reflects a complex tradition embedding African, European and Amerindian cultures with Christian, Voodoo and Freemasonry beliefs. Its creative and visual intricacy reflect the richness of Haitian history and culture, unique to this land of miscegenation.

Andre Breton, Jean-Paul Sartre and Andre Malraux claimed Haitian art as an important contribution to the field of art. Over years, Haitian artists forged its singularity to become world famous and amaze art critics and collectors around the world.

Haitian artists question our collective unconscious. They reveal the sacred. Their art revives a new humanism with vibrant colours and deep meaning. They have a message for us.

From the Revolution, the resonance of Haiti has been fundamental in modern societies. It is time today to listen its artists and give Haiti the place it deserves.

“AYITI Gallery is the most unique attempt for social and political Fine art that I have never witnessed. The art will not only cause you storms of feelings but will deeply strike you with their message and shape your perspectives not only towards the world but towards yourself. A triumph, a selection of breathtaking masterpieces that should stand among the greatest collections of our time.”

Maria Papadopoulou, Art historian

GINO TINTIN

Born in 1973 | Lives in Haiti

Gino grasped his first pencil in 1990, given by his brother JP Tintin who encouraged his passion for art. Gino has developed his own artistic style after studying anatomy and autopsy of the human body. From this experience came these stringy creatures to highlight the creative world of the Haitian culture where he draws his inspiration. Gino has exhibited in Haiti, France, both North and South America.

RESONANCE

Elegance & Harmony

“My universe is inhabited with phantasmagorical figures. They reflect the freedom of my thoughts, the deepness of my beliefs. They express my identity, the richness of my culture, the heritage of my fathers. They represent wisdom & love. They reveal the metamorphosis of ideas, of beings, of live, of societies. My art echoes my spirituality. It brings serenity to those who dive into the world and hear the soft melody of these wise creatures.”

ENRICH YOUR LIFE. ENRICH THEIR LIFE.

Our artists represent the new wave of creative minds that emerges globally and responds to the rising demand of new art that inspires and galvanizes.

They create transcendental art that stimulates the inner experience, inviting you to explore secret and magical wonderlands, awakening your consciousness and easing your well-being. Our artists are healers. Their art helps you feel good and empowered.

However, despite their undeniable talent, majority of Haitian artists live in the shadow. They are remote in Haiti, with no financial means nor connections. They struggle to be seen and must find survival ways to live and support their families.

This is a huge missed opportunity for them and for all of us. That is why we stepped in: to share their art to the world and help them deepen their vision.

Today, when you buy their art, not only you support the creative and transformative journey of gifted artists but you also enrich your own life and those around you. You surround yourself and impress with unique magical art and enjoy its positive effect on your mind. You invest in creative people who deserve light and whose works might grow in value over years. You join a network of mindful collectors and instil real change on you and on them.

"We wanted to buy something unique, inventive, personal to us and ensure that we would be supporting talented independent artists. The project provided all of that and more. The gallery is of a wonderfully high standard. Alexandre, the founder, is patient, informed and a trustworthy intermediary. His vision will spread far. We cannot recommend working with AYTI Gallery enough."

JONAS PROFIL

Born in 1957 | Lives in Haiti

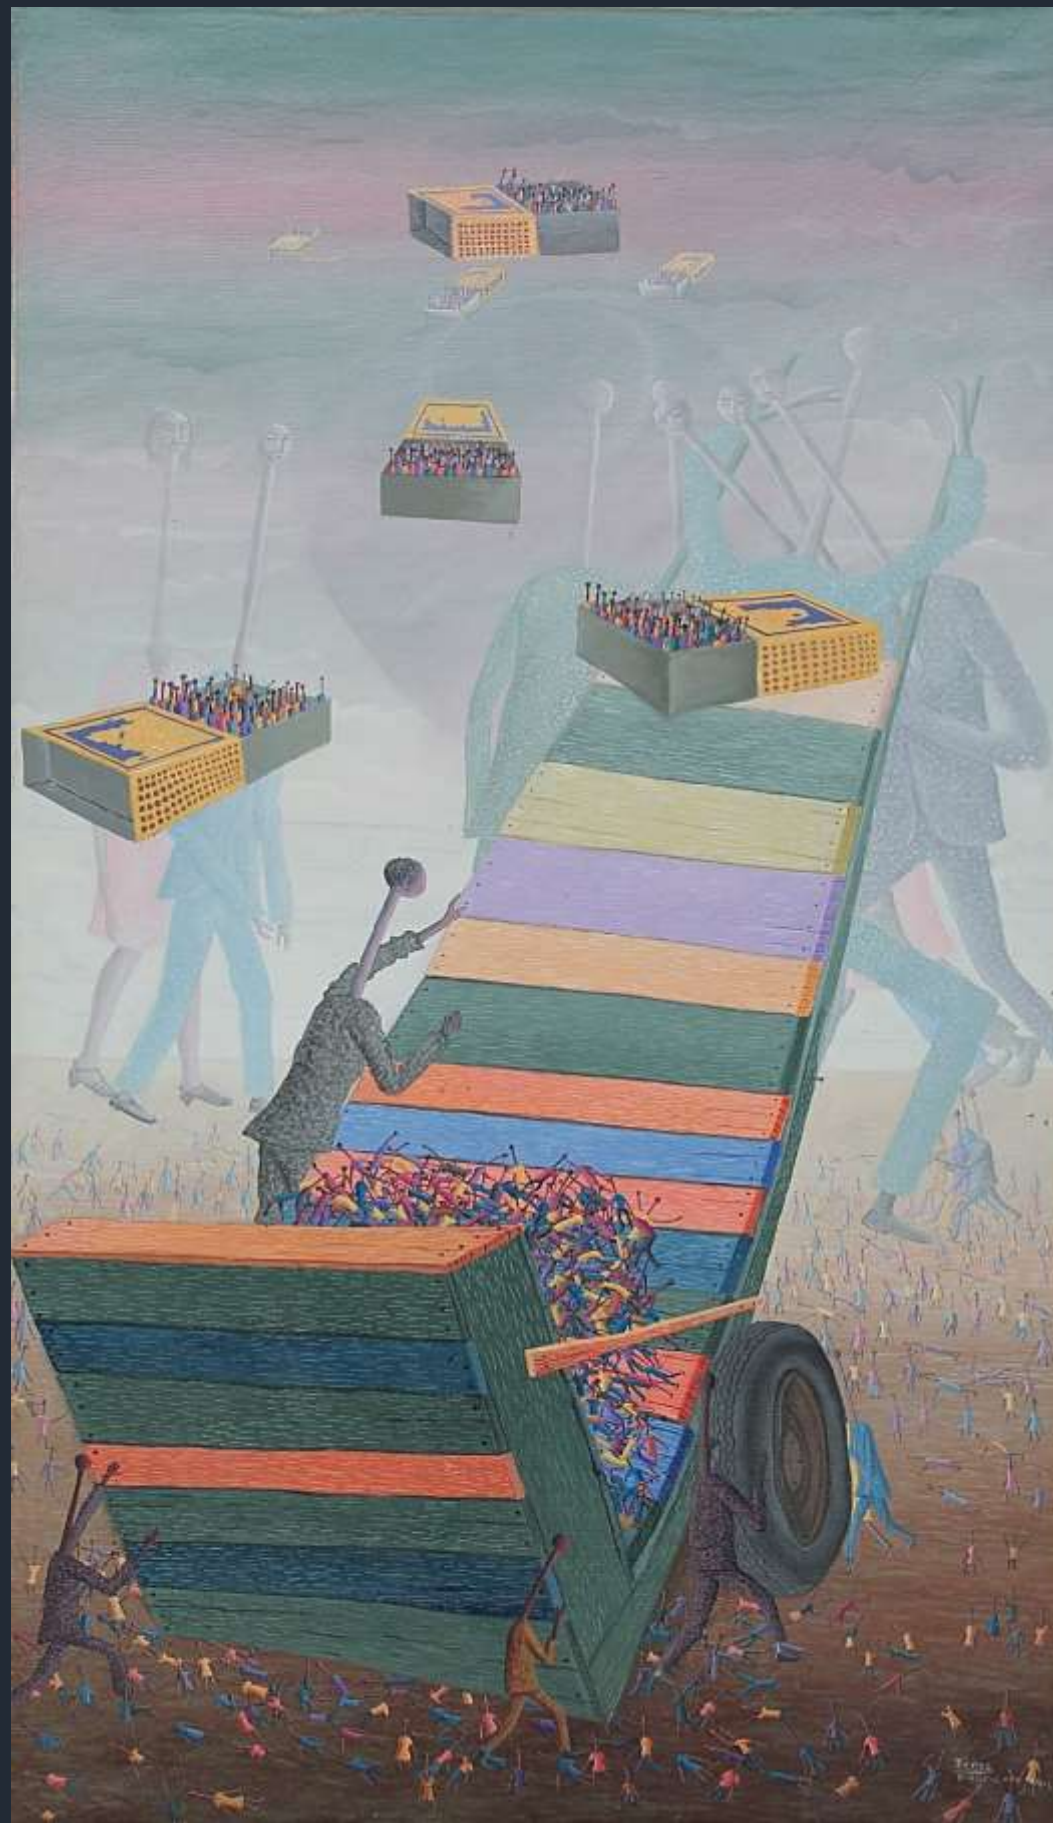

At 18, Jonas decided to use the money given to him for school to buy art supplies. Since then, interest and appreciation for his art has significantly developed, with a particular focus on his fineness to picture his vision. Jonas depicts a harmonious world, a generous and luxurious Nature, messenger of love, peace and unity. Jonas paints the everyday. The Haitian reality. Jonas has exhibited in a large number of countries.

FUSION

Peace & Love

“Humanity has been created by love. Love is everywhere. Love unites humans. I share my dreamlike vision of the world. Generous Nature, humanised animals, long-necked humans. My art reminds us that we are one. Facing the same experience of living. However so fragile. Spirituality helps us to elevate our consciousness to connect with the creator. To find peace and love. Look deeper into my art. Don’t look down. Look up. There is hope for humanity.”

JONAS PROFIL

OUR MANIFESTO. WHAT WE STAND FOR.

Despite their undeniable talent and their unique sense of creativity, an infinite number of International artists have limited access to the International art scene. Their geographic location, their economic situation, their anonymity, the absence of art education background, the nonconformity of their art and their disconnection with the art world isolate these artists from the main International art hubs. The art market has become somehow elitist and conservative. It favours artists who have sufficient financial means to show their work, artists who are able or are enough proactive to market themselves online and offline, artists who have pursued art studies, artists who follow trends and respond to the commercial demand of the market, or artists who live in Western countries. It brings artists to compete with one another on an economic basis and rejects a vast majority of talented artists worldwide. It limits the endless variety and originality that International artists could show to the world, it distorts the true meaning that originates from the creation of art, it narrows the notion of art itself influencing the regard, the taste and the decisions of the general public, and it promotes the duplication of art and artists. The art market has created a replicable business model that runs out of steam and seeks new inspiration.

Art is more than a product. It's a vision, the introspection of a soul, a universal language connecting cultures and individuals together. Art is an invitation to travel.

We are meant to bring change and explore alternatives to nurture the infinite potential of International art and the creative vision of Inspirational artists.

- We believe in artists first.
- We believe in art as an act of self-expression, with no rules, intuitive, expressive, initiatory, meaningful, and the inner soul as the main driving source of inspiration.
- We believe in an art that inspires, instructs and provides emotions to people, that opens minds and mentalities, that influences practices and principles, that expresses a message, a feeling, a state of consciousness, that transcends a reality.
- We believe in equal opportunities for all talented, creative and inspiring artists to show their work worldwide no matter their origin, their background, their status, their renown or their connection to the art world.
- We believe that the renown of an artist be based on his/her talent, originality, creativity, the aesthetic of his/her work, the deepness and pureness of his/her inspiration.
- We believe in new technologies to bring the vision of inspirational artists to life.
- We believe in collaboration instead of competition, bringing in diversity into unity, encouraging the collective rather than the individual.
- We believe in more inspirational art in our daily life to stimulate collective consciousness, taking art out of the traditional art premises.

LEVOY EXIL

Born in 1944 | Lives in Haiti

A leading figure of the movement Saint Soleil created over 45 years ago, Levoy is an established Haitian art master. Intense and colorful patterns surrounded by dots and lines "of light", Levoy's paintings are mystical and abstract. They depict the Voodoo Loas Marassa, these derive from Levoy's African roots and the memory of the Arawak Indians. Levoy has exhibited in nearly 20 countries.

REVELATION

Life & Soul

"I reveal the forms, colours and lines of the Loas, figures with slanted eyes and long arms, who guide and protect us. They inspire my art. I depict an invisible world where doves, spirits and stars form a colourful mosaic representing the connection between the real and the spiritual, the fecundity of Nature, the conciliation of the soul and the body. The spirits of the Sun have entrusted me with a mission. My art highlights the timelessness and the immortality of life."

NESLY RICHARD

Born in 1979 | Lives in Haiti

Nesly is the son of Antilhomme Richard, one of the great figures of the Saint Soleil movement. Nesly's paintings, tinted with voodoo and magic. Nesly deploys singular spiritual characters upon the canvas. His style is both bold, like bright suns plunging into purple waters, and whimsical, like brown cow tails swatting away flies. His work is highly demanded.

SYMBIOSIS Nature & Spirits

"I source my inspiration in nature. Always in movement, always regenerating, nature is strength. I observe it, I listen it, I paint it. Nature is alive, full of spirits inhabiting trees, animals, clouds, humans. I invoke them. They show me their world. They represent power and authority over the rivers, fields and natural places. Gods and goddesses of nature appear in my dreams. Mi-humans, mi-animals. Through my art, I share my vision to the world."

EMBRACE THE FUTURE OF ART

Beyond Haiti, we recognised that there are an infinite number of talented artists worldwide who live in the shadow of the mainstreamed art. They produce unseen unique artworks and represent a huge niche market along new financial and social opportunities.

Considering that the global art market is booming and progressively expanding, the demand for new inspirational art is increasing, the mindfulness movement is rising worldwide, the latest technologies enable us to create new art experiences, we have decided to scale up our business and go global.

Our vision is to build a more ethical, inclusive and spectacular art world. By connecting the most remote and inspiring International artists with the new generation of mindful and socially responsible people, we will unveil thousands of fresh, mind-stimulating and avant-garde art through a pioneering online marketplace. By merging traditional fine art with the new technologies (3D, Virtual Reality), we will provide a new immersive, entertaining and educative home experience through an online streaming platform.

Our goal is to enrich the lives and the minds of thousands through art. If you seek innovative and disruptive solutions to leverage positive change in society worldwide, then here we are. Contact us if you are interested to step in and hear more.

HUGUES FEROL

Born in 1969 | Lives in Haiti

Hugues studied at the National School of Arts (ENARTS) in Haiti in mid 90's. Inspired by the Haitian culture and influenced by Fauvism, Hugues has created a phantasmogoric world where angelic creatures divulge the invisible connection existing between all elements. Hugues' style is unique and spontaneous.

THE MIND WORLD

Grace & Liberty

“My art is inspired by the curves of women, by the musical tunes of our life, by the uniqueness of my culture. It reflects what I live, what I feel, what I am. This is my inner. A precious gift. The extension of my world. A surreal world where live pure creatures mingling with clouds in infinite gestures rocked by a sweet melody. My art spurs the sensorial quest. It provides to those who step into my world peace, serenity and liberty.”
