OUR ECO COMMITMENT

At Walter Geering, we are dedicated to making a positive impact on the environment as a supplier to hotels, holiday parks, and the wider hospitality sector. We understand the urgent need to address the issue of plastic pollution, and we are committed to taking concrete steps towards reducing plastic waste throughout our operations.

One of our primary goals is to reduce plastic in our own brand packaging. We recognise that packaging plays a significant role in contributing to plastic waste, and we are actively working to minimise its environmental impact. By implementing innovative solutions and alternative materials, we aim to make our packaging more sustainable and eco-friendly.

However, our commitment doesn't stop there. We understand that to achieve substantial change, collaboration is essential. Therefore, we are actively engaging with our third-party suppliers, manufacturers, and partners to collectively reduce plastic across our entire supply chain. By working together, we can drive meaningful change and create a more sustainable future for the hospitality industry.

The hospitality industry, by nature, has relied heavily on single-use plastic due to its convenience. As a supplier, we understand this challenge and are committed to finding sustainable alternatives that maintain convenience without compromising the environment. We believe it is possible to strike a balance between convenience and environmental responsibility, and we are actively seeking innovative solutions to achieve this.

OUR ECO COMMITMENT

To fulfil our commitment, we have incorporated various sustainable materials into our extensive range of toiletries and welcome packs. We utilise PCR (Post-Consumer Recycled) plastic, POP (Prevented Ocean Plastic), which helps reduce the demand for new plastic production and diverts plastic waste from landfills. Additionally, we embrace biodegradable plastics, wheat straw, plastic-free packaging, and materials such as recycled wood pulp and bamboo. These choices not only reduce our reliance on traditional plastics but also promote the use of renewable resources.

Furthermore, we have also explored the use of organic oil in our product formulations, prioritising sustainable and eco-friendly ingredients. This approach aligns with our commitment to sustainability and ensures that our products are as environmentally conscious as possible.

At Walter Geering, we understand that our actions have consequences, and we are dedicated to making responsible choices that benefit the planet. Through our commitment to reducing plastic waste, exploring sustainable materials, and fostering collaboration across the supply chain, we aim to lead by example and inspire positive change within the hospitality industry.

Together, we can create a more sustainable and environmentally friendly future for all.

ECO FRIENDLY PURCHASING GUIDE

We have launched an innovative Eco-Friendly Purchasing Guide that aims to assist customers in making environmentally conscious choices. This guide utilises a range of intuitive icons that highlight the eco-credentials of their products, making it easier for our customers to understand and select items that align with their sustainability goals.

The icons featured in Walter Geerings' Eco-Friendly Purchasing Guide encompass a wide range of eco-friendly attributes. For instance, the oxo-biodegradable icon signifies products that are designed to degrade and break down naturally over time, reducing their impact on the environment. The compostable icon denotes items that can be composted and returned to the soil as organic matter, promoting a circular economy.

Furthermore, the icons indicate the use of sustainable materials such as recycled wood pulp, bamboo, and wheat straw, emphasising the brand's commitment to reducing reliance on virgin resources. The recyclable icon signifies products that can be easily recycled after use, diverting waste from landfills and conserving valuable resources.

In addition to material choices, the icons highlight ethical considerations such as vegan-friendly and not tested on animals, appealing to consumers who prioritise cruelty-free products. The guide also identifies products that are free from harmful additives such as parabens, while promoting those made with organic argan oil.

We hope this guide empowers you to make informed choices, fostering a greener and more sustainable future.

DIGITAL BROCHURE

WHY WE HAVE OPTED FOR A DIGITAL BROCHURE

As part of our eco commitment we are always looking for innovative ways to reduce our carbon footprint and do our bit for the planet. Paper is manufactured from tree fibres and is a significant driver of deforestation, 70% of the world's plants and animals live in forests and are deprived of their natural habitats due to deforestation. By going digital with our brochures we will be saving on average 250,000 printed pages per year.

There are several benefits that come from swapping from print to digital brochures:

SAVES NATURAL RESOURCES

The production of paper involves the exploitation of natural resources, for example:

- 40% of the world's commercially cut timber is used for the production of paper.
- A4 Paper requires 10L of water per sheet in production.
- The paper industry is the 5th largest consumer of energy in the World.
- The production of 1 ton of virgin paper requires 1609L of petrol.
- Over 30 million acres of forest are destroyed annually.

DIGITAL BROCHURE

PREVENTS PAPER POLLUTION

In the past four decades, the use of paper has risen by 400%. Roughly, 26% of solid waste dumped in dumping sites is discarded paper and paperboard. Pulp and paper mills also contribute to water, land and air pollution. It has also been identified that de-inking of papers during recycling is a source of chemical emissions.

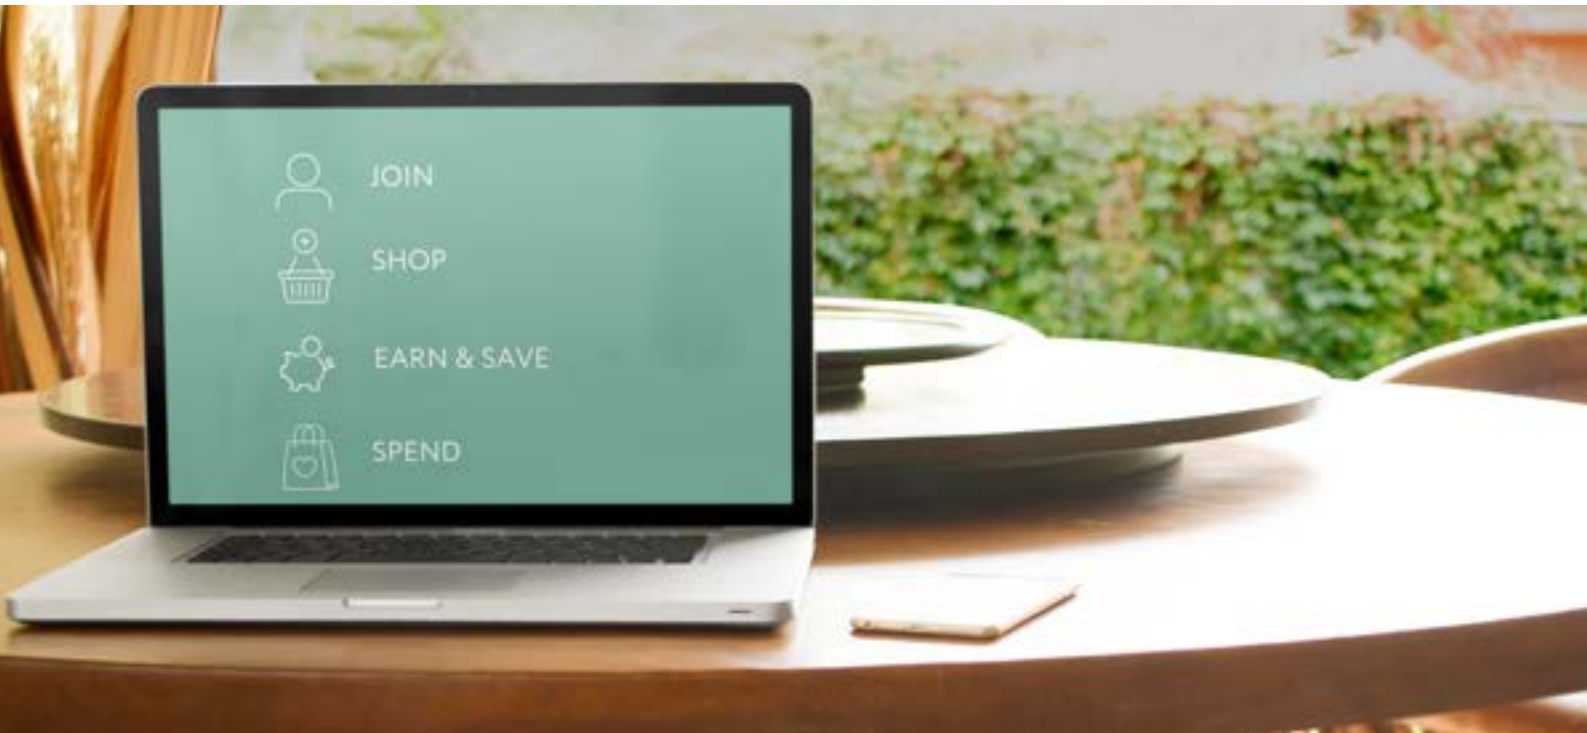

REDUCES GREEN HOUSE GAS EMISSIONS

About 69% of the global greenhouse gas emissions are from the transportation and energy industries. Out of this, the paper and print industry accounts for 1% of the carbon dioxide produced. When paper is disposed of in dumping sites, it is subsequently broken down, and methane is produced, which is a potent greenhouse gas. The paper industry also uses fossil fuels for raw material production and transportation, emitting more Greenhouse gases. The life cycle of paper is also damaging, it starts with a tree being cut down and ends with it being burned, which emits carbon dioxide into the atmosphere.

CREATIVE OPPORTUNITIES

Our marketing team can deliver an enhanced user experience with a digital brochure. It can be shared across all digital channels, is much more visually engaging and it can be updated in real time.

ERA COLLECTION

Toiletries

Our superb eco-friendly collection Era comes in contemporary natural tones and in a gentle white tea and jasmine fragrance. Not only is Era kind to your skin it is kind to the environment. Era is recyclable and the tubes themselves and the accessories packaging is oxo-biodegradable. During the manufacturing process, we add d2w. D2w accelerates the natural process of oxidation until the product is no longer a plastic but a material which can be bio-assimilated; used as a food source, by bacteria and fungi on land and sea.

White Tea & Jasmine Fragrance:

A delicate fragrance that gives us little bits of all of the fragrance wheel. Subtle citrus notes wrapped in tea leaves soaked in sultry floral petals laying in a blanket of vanilla-amber cosiness.

PAPER PRODUCTS

Cleaning

Whether it's to clean up those irritating spillages and messes or to wipe their face after a nice meal, your guests will appreciate any paper cleaning products you supply in your rooms. It can be frustrating arriving at your accommodation, only to find you need to buy paper towels for the bathroom or kitchen.

At Walter Geering, fortunately, we have a wide selection of blue paper towels in a practical central feed, suitable for many dispensers, along with luxury 3-ply hand towels and highly absorbent paper towels for everything else. Having any of these at their disposal will help your guests feel more at home and better able to keep their room clean and tidy.
