SUP PADDLES

Jobe paddles are thoughtfully crafted to enhance your stand-up paddleboarding experience, offering the perfect combination of performance, comfort, and durability.

With a wide range of options designed for beginners and seasoned paddlers alike, Jobe ensures there's a paddle to suit every skill level and style. These paddles are built using high-quality materials such as fiberglass, carbon, and aluminium, providing exceptional strength and resilience to handle various water conditions while remaining lightweight to reduce fatigue during longer sessions. Adjustable designs allow for a personalized fit, ensuring comfort and efficiency on the water.

Whether you're exploring calm lakes, tackling waves, or gliding down rivers, Jobe paddles are engineered to elevate your adventures and help you make the most of your time on the water.

THE PURPOSE OF STIFFNESS AND FLEX

With the scale in which it is being used, a paddle is an important tool which is often overlooked. Being one of the most important tools, you want a greater precision in the way this product is being developed.

To elevate your watersports experience, we pair our Lite and Premium SUP packages with a lightweight fiberglass paddle. The Lite paddle contains 20% carbon, while the Premium Stream paddle features 40% carbon. Known for its luxurious use and unique qualities, carbon adds incredible responsiveness: when flexed, it instinctively pushes back, quickly returning to its original shape. This makes it the ultimate choice for those who demand top performance.

This is why flex combined with stiffness matters - especially with carbon - letting you paddle farther with less effort for a more rewarding time on the water. And as you might expect, the paddle in our Elite packages is crafted entirely from 100% carbon!
