WHAT OUR CLIENTS SAY

We approached Dudley Peverill to create an estate masterplan, which immediately gave us a clearer sense of direction. They guided us through a feasibility stress test on an old Crendon barn, handled the entire planning process, and kept us fully updated throughout the build. We have achieved a brilliant 18% return on investment — giving us the confidence to push forward with the next project in our masterplan.

Dudley Peverill provided invaluable help with diversification strategy, feasibility studies, financial modelling, and grant funding. They managed a complex construction project, taking Pitchcott Farm from concept to completion, and it's now the destination we hoped it would be.

We received a Strategic Estate Masterplan from Dudley Peverill to help us realise our ambitions of operating a farm shop and retail operation on the estate. The strategic plan recognised the opportunities and challenges within our estate, and I was especially impressed by the subtle insights they gained from spending time with the estate team and I during their site visit.

Dudley Peverill are not only providing a much needed service in the bewildering world of farm diversification, their approach to doing so is flawless. They assessed us with no preconceptions about our situation, and offered a uniquely tailored combination of options — taking into consideration our financial and geographical limitations. We never felt we were being given the “hard sell”, nor did they sugar-coat our options. I feel much more confident embarking on our endeavour with the help and support of DPA.

The Diversification Planner offers a useful insight, and certainly forms a platform for all farmers looking to diversify to assess what will work for them — regardless of the financial side of things. Very clever.

I'm glad we met and now I know what Dudley Peverill are all about — a good first approach to kick these things off rather than going in blind with no support, saving on abortive costs and setting out a clear strategy.

Dudley Peverill take a wider view of a project than just the construction itself. They understand the planning, technical and practical considerations that need to be addressed before work starts, which helps identify potential issues early and gives the project a solid foundation. That upfront planning adds real value and is why we're happy to continue working with them.

Having recently inherited a farm I was eager to sense check my plans for its future development and management. The team at Dudley Peverill were able to provide a fresh perspective on the options available, supporting and validating my own thoughts whilst also presenting some alternatives which I had not considered.

Dudley Peverill have been instrumental in efficiently providing the expertise and time which I lack in our day to day business with regards to our non-core activities. Enlisting their help has enabled desirable diversification concepts to be thoroughly explored using their knowledge and extensive contacts, meaning that momentum and productivity is maintained in our diversified enterprises.
