Optima Technic designs and produces Mobile Command Centers as customers need. Mobile command centers have a wide equipment range in order to provide special services.

Mobile command centers go to the area as mobile to provide communication and command in emergency situation. In this way, mobile command centers provide service of a centralized main headquarter. They are designed to achieve transferring of audio, video and data as real-time.

In addition, mobile command centers can also serve as a temporary mobile 911 communication center in emergency which happened loss of communication because of natural disasters such as hurricane and earthquake.
