

Located in the South Atlantic Ocean, the Falkland Islands are a striking archipelago of over 770 islands, centred around the two main islands - East and West Falkland. Covering approximately 4,700 square miles (12,173 km²), the islands are similar in size to Connecticut or half the size of Wales. With a small population - 85% of whom live in the charming capital of Stanley - the Falklands remain one of the world's most remote and unspoilt destinations. Vast open spaces, minimal human impact, and an abundance of wildlife make this a sanctuary for nature lovers seeking peace, beauty, and rare encounters.

Often compared to the Galápagos for their remarkable biodiversity, the Falkland Islands are home to an astonishing array of wildlife - much of it tame and wonderfully approachable. Imagine standing just metres from penguins, rare bird species, and seals in a landscape that feels truly untouched. With rugged, unspoilt beauty, rich heritage, and a deep sense of solitude, the islands offer a rare opportunity to connect with nature in its purest form.

Falkland Islands Holidays are the longest-established tour operator in the islands.
