

Core Platform Services

Power Analytics

Historical market data and insights that allow customers to analyse the market and to backtest and populate their own models

Power Live

Real-time information that allows the user to examine the current state of the market, used by many traders and operators in the market

Power Forecasting

Forward insight into the factors that drive the market into the future, with a wide variety of forecasts including renewables, demand, and prices

Weather

Detailed views on weather changes across Europe and individual countries, based on GFS weather forecasts

Market Price Services

EEX Prices

EOD forward prices from EEX: tracking carbon, gas, power and spreads (future and historical)

EPEX Intraday

Insights into the EPEX Intraday market, including trade evolution, WAP, and complete order books

Power Prices

Day Ahead and Intraday spot market prices including TSO data. The Interconnector Auctions section also shows prices & volumes for cross-border capacity

Spectron Prices

EOD forward prices from Spectron: tracking carbon, gas, power, coal and diesel (future and historical)

Bolt-On Services

Ancillary Services

Selection of charts providing more information about the services used by the TSO to manage the balance of frequency and stability

Long-Term Curves

Selection of charts providing forecasts from EnAppSys proprietary models spanning years into the future to show the expected evolution of the market out to 2050

Renewables

Information on weather, renewables forecast and generation Available from GFS and DTN (Meteo)

Power Revenues

Information on the estimated profitability of power plant (GB only)

Market Support & Consultancy

GB Market access

Market access tools allowing parties of all sizes to connect, notify and monitor interactions with Elexon and National Grid ESO. With easy access by using our web-services, which helps everyone enter the market at speed

Market training

Market training is tailored to individual customer needs: covering from first principles how power markets operate; maintaining compliance with regulatory & technical requirements, and using EnAppSys technology to help customers effectively interact with those markets

Bespoke consultancy

Bespoke consultancy services on energy trading in Europe. Focuses on delivering excellent market research, feasibility studies, forecasts, revenue modelling and asset valuations

Subscription reports

Regular advisory reports on European and GB energy markets providing insights on a number of topics. Made available as a subscription service, either for single report or multiple reports