Ambassadors for Change

Since 2017 VENT have been giving their recycled pencils to charities, NGOs and volunteers working in schools and education projects around the world.

Sometimes a pencil is the one thing a child needs to attend school, and the education they receive will be the single most important thing they have to help lift themselves and their families out of poverty.

At VENT we give 5% of our net turnover to children's education projects worldwide and have given away tens of thousands of pencils helping children to get the education they deserve.

Share a Pencil Day

In May each year VENT organises the UK largest FREE to participate global education awareness day for schools across the country.

More than 200,000 children have signed up since it's launch to learn more about the reasons millions of children worldwide are still missing out on the education they deserve.

Called Share a Pencil Day pupils have to share one pencil between two while taking part in the lessons and activities of the day, giving them first hand practical experience of what learning is like when you don't have all the resources they are used to here in the UK
