

Earthsong Seeds

Specialists in medicinal and culinary herbs, we offer a range of organic seeds that grow to be as beautiful and beneficial in the garden as they are good for your health and wellbeing.

Seed Packs

All the herb species in our seed packs have a long history of traditional use; many are native to the UK, some come from other health traditions. All are suited for growing in a temperate climate.

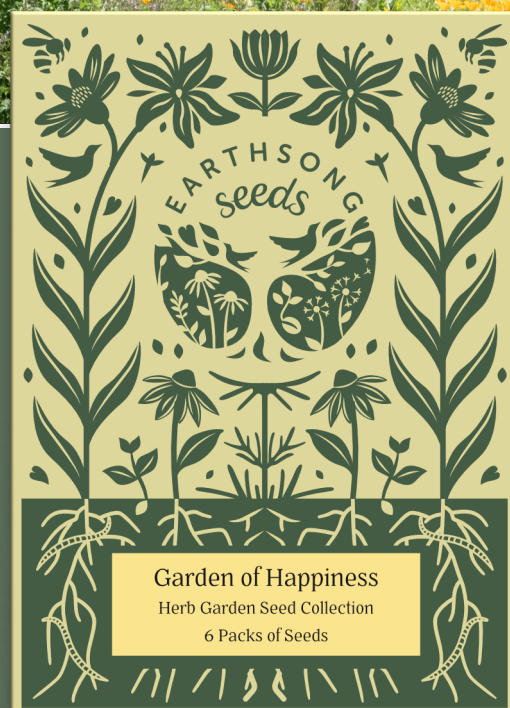

Seed packs sales usually peak in the months leading up to the seed-sowing season in Spring and early Summer.

Seed Collections

Perfect as gifts, or for your own garden, each of our twelve seed collections has been carefully collated by experienced herbalists and gardeners. There are collections for massage, digestion, sleep, herbal teas, pollinators and much more.

Each collection contains a card with information on the herbs, and there is a wealth of information on how to grow and use them on our website. Seed collections are popular all year round with sales usually peaking in the lead up to xmas.

What's inside a Seed Collection?

Seed Collection boxes are made from FSC certified card.
All contents are biodegradable and 100% plastic-free

Organic

All seeds used in the collections are certified organic or in conversion with the Soil Association and are grown using regenerative farming practices.

All of our seed packs will be certified and labelled organic by the end of 2023.

Local

Over 85% of our seeds are grown in our own nursery in Somerset. The rest are purchased from trusted organic growers. Many of the herbs we grow are valuable plants for pollinators and help support and improve local biodiversity.

Our Mission

We are a small group of herbalists and gardeners who want to share the joy and benefits of growing healing herbs.

Our mission is to support gardeners in learning how to propagate, grow, harvest and use the herbs, empowering them to take greater control of their own health and wellbeing.
