TURTLE DOVES

The home of recycled cashmere.

Established in 2009 Turtle Doves is a British design and manufacturing brand using post-consumer cashmere jumpers to create beautiful new accessories.

We are passionate about how we use the earth's resources and sustaining circular manufacturing processes. All our products are made from 100% recycled cashmere extending the life of the fibre and preventing cashmere entering landfill.

We use 100% pre-loved cashmere jumpers, that have been washed and dried naturally, to create unique products extending the life of the fibre and preventing cashmere entering landfill.

We strive for zero waste and any excess cashmere goes through a further recycling process to be made into yarn, to create new knitwear products for brands such as our sister brand Celtic & Co.

We are proud that 100% of our products are handmade in the UK by skilled crafts people.

Tremendous Turtle Doves

"...wonderful independent British company, both for myself and as gifts for others. They repurpose secondhand cashmere sweaters into toasty warm but so soft accessories. The great thing about cashmere is that it doesn't itch in the slightest like wool and although very light in weight, is supremely warm. "
