mary ann rogers gallery

Northumberland-based artist, Mary Ann Rogers, paints vibrant watercolour paintings full of energy, from an in-depth knowledge of her subject matter. Her studio and gallery is surrounded by the wild northumbrian hills, whose inhabitants, along with her own menagerie of birds, feature in her work and delight visitors to her country home gallery.

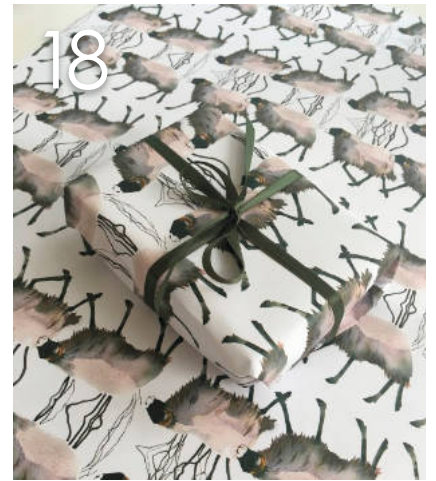

Mary Ann's work is highly collectable. Her original paintings hang in a selected handful of galleries, and feature in many private collections worldwide.

Limited Edition Prints

Four-colour plate lithographic prints, laid down by hand by craftsmen printers using the highest quality materials. Each print is from an edition of either 500 or 200 and is numbered, titled and signed in pencil by the artist. Prints are for sale either 'loose', mounted and cellophane wrapped, or framed. Visit the website to view the entire range of prints.

Framing- the finishing touch

Prints supplied either 'Loose', mounted and cello wrapped or in a choice of three elegant solid wood frames. For a touch of luxury, there is also 'Dove', a frame which perfectly suits Mary Ann's colour palette.
