From a cosy London apartment, Kate began sowing the seeds of what we have all come to know and love as the brand Kate of Kensington.

From creating homemade gifts for friends and family to securing positions at local craft fairs, Kate of Kensington is continuing to blossom into a well-respected household name.

Since 2012, Kate has been a firm favourite at the world famous Apple Market in Covent Garden where the business still resides today.

With a permanent home in the English Countryside, we have the perfect setting to inspire an abundance of hand painted designs from our quirky creative team!

Continuing to make bold steps into the realms of homeware, all inspired by the great outdoors, it is with love that we present to you...

— Sharing —

Ideal for a serving platter! Think cheeseboard or a centerpiece for serving dishes. Our sharing platter comes with bumper feet to protect surfaces.

— Coaster —

These aren't just for your drinks! We love using these for butter trays, soap dishes, candle stands, etc. All our coasters have bumper feet to protect surfaces.

— COUNTRY COMPANIONS —

Fox + Rabbit

They want you to think that no friendship is there,
That a fox is a villain who lives to scare.
But believe it or not this is all a ruse,
To keep their bond secret and used to confuse,
The wise and the bouncy the thickest of thieves,
Continuing the act that we all still believe.

Pheasant + Hare

Down in the depths of the rich dewy meadow,

Huddling low to ensure they're not on show.

A Pheasant and a Hare are sharing their plans,

To create for their neighbours a banquet so grand.

Showing that two of the rarest of pairings,

Can work together to bring the most thoughtful of bearings.

Highland + Grouse

Trampling grass under big heavy hooves,
The small timid grouse is watching his moves.
Fluffy red hair and horns with a peak,
Colourful feathers and foraging beak.
Differences clear but the same thing they seek,
A long happy life with a friendship unique.

Donkey + Pig

With curly tail and fluffy ears,
Pig and Donkey make perfect peers.
Up in the country and down on the farm,
Roaming around dazzling with charm.
So let's all give cheers to the friends of the years,
With their small curly tails and their big fluffy ears.

Badger + Toad

One loves to burrow and one loves to hop.
 One leaves a furrow, one lands with a plop.
 Not the most social are badgers and toads,
 Unlikely tea guests in each other's abodes.
 Badgers together with the army of toads,
 Will work together to share any loads.

Stag + Doe

A stag and a doe make an impeccable team,
One keeps watch while one drinks from the stream.

Antlers are there to fight and defend,
While soft colours and spots tell others "I'm a friend!"
Curled up in the field and away in their dream,
Stag and doe together, bright eyes a-gleam.

Family A' Hare

Amidst the long grass in woodlands and fields,
Three pairs of ears raise above their green shields.

Alert and on guard for most of their day,
Now a chance to relax, leap and bounce their ballet!

A brood of these beauties not easily found,
As soon they retreat to their homes in the ground.

Pheasant in Grass

With feathers full of colours and a smile upon their face,
These cheeky vibrant gamers appear so out of place.
Dashing through the fields so heavy on their feet,
A clumsy puff of primary dancing to their own beat.
Why have any worries when you are so brightly clad,
A bouquet of pheasants who are all completely mad.

Concealed behind a dry-stone wall,
A menagerie of animals all great and small.
Bleats and oinks and quacks and moos,
Three snouts pop up for a clearer view.
The closest of friends though they may not seem,
Are enjoying a day in a field of dreams!

A flow of auburn caught on a breeze,
Whipping the moors with the greatest of ease.
This strong pair of highlands, one large and one small,
Love life in the elements under it's great Scottish thrall!

Both different sizes but similar in mind,
These hairy horned Scots are two of a kind!

Bees

Busy and so buzzy are those fluffy balls of dust,
Nectar collecting from your garden simply is a must.
No one has ever told them that their jobs are so of note,
These vital little workers should have the right to vote!
Pollinators of perennials and all things in between,
A stripy mini hero whose cape cannot be seen!

Browns and blues and yellows all dancing up above,
Darting through the canopy and doing what they love.
Can you spy the little wren who has the biggest of all dreams,
To be just like the others with their colours so supreme.

Birds of different sizes all learning to get along,
Swapping garden stories in the prettiest of songs.

Bees

The same in any language the most distinctive of all sounds,
 You see them working tirelessly and hovering around.
 Not matter your opinion their job is still the same,
 To collect and to protect is their one and only aim.
 Whether or not they know it they happily work away,
 Our native little buzzers drinking Britain's vast bouquets.

Cows

From the long shaggy hair of the hardy old Highland,
To the black and white Friesians further south on our island.

Cows are distinct in their shapes and their sizes,
So getting it wrong will win you no prizes.

Become better friends with the cows in their pens,
And soon you will see them through a much different lens.

As beautiful bird song fills up the air,
All the insects and worms must still be aware.

Music to our ears and lovely to hear,
In the hearts of the bugs this sound will strike fear.
The circle of life will always keep rolling, So enjoy the songs of the birds when you're out and you're strolling.

Pigs

The Gloucester Old Spot is a friendly old boar,
And the hairy red Tamworth is a pig we adore,
From Large Black to Middle White to spotted and sandy,
We knew a guide to these heritage breeds would be handy.
From Gloucester to Oxford to Berkshire and back,
Our favourite pig breeds are all over the map.

Ladybirds

Ladybird ladybird... begins the old poem you've heard,
 You may even have it down word for word.
 Happily flying with bold black spots,
 From flower to flower in all of the plots.
 Sometimes alone and sometimes in a herd,
 You're never too far from a friendly ladybird.

Thistle + Bee

The plot is abuzz as little bees bristle,
From thistle to thistle like small fuzzy missiles,
Gathering nectar and taking it home,
This will form part of their sweet honeycomb.
With their pockets stuffed full, off the bees roam,
Eventually returning to their cosy bee home.

The Allotment

As the sun settles down and the gardeners leave,
Allotments become playgrounds would you believe?

Moles poke from holes and bees enjoy breezes,
Bunnies play hide and seek, robin lands where he pleases.

Allotments and gardens are perfect for play,
For our animal friends it's been a very good day.

My promise to you!

At Kate of Kensington we want you to feel like a part of our family. Leaving no stone unturned, I aim to ensure that all your queries and questions are answered to make the process of stocking us as easy as can be. It is so important to me that all your needs are met. We take pride in our appearance and provide all new stockists with:

- Tailor made point of sale available to purchase
- Care guides for customers shopping in your store

I am here to give you advice on the history of our products to enable you to really understand just how unique we are as a company, brand and manufacturer.

So if you would like to have a chat about adding us to your business, please do not hesitate to contact me!
