WALLETS

RFID protection

Functionality first

All the EXENTRI Wallets are designed with functionality as their main aspect. The different models are suited to meet the various needs and requirements of the modern people. Whether you use only cards, cards and bills, or cards, bills and coins, you will find a favourite.

Quality materials

All our wallets are made from quality cowhide leather and contains a stainless steel plate for stability. The Wallet and Multiwallet also have a main locking device in stainless steel. RFID block is included in various pockets for the different products, specified later in this brochure.

A NORWEGIAN INVENTION

Norway is a country where nature makes its own laws, where you are inspired to think innovatively and differently. EXENTRI Wallets are the result of two men being challenged by their surroundings. They made it their mission to design wallets that combined functionality with classic style and modern demands.
