Our Poster Pop-up Frame kit has 28 different sizing options up to 92cm.

You can now afford to frame your artistic endeavours, family photos, certificates and just about anything you'd enjoy seeing every day but which sits in a file or memory box. See our Instagram for inspiration.

Simply decide the size you want, cut the sides to length with scissors, easily assemble and attach whatever in the finished frame. They're so light that you can hang them on your wall using a push pin. Replace the artwork whenever by simply peeling it off the supplied sticky pads.

Pop-up Frame™ assembly instructions

First decide what size frame you want.
A4* frame: Cut just two frame sides in a straight line along the '21' cutting guides using a sharp pair of scissors or craft knife.
A5* frame: Cut two sides at '21' and two at '15'.
30cm* square frame: No cutting needed.
21cm* square frame: Cut all four sides at '21'.
15cm* square frame: Cut all four sides at '15'.
30x15cm* frame: Cut just two sides at '15'.

Find a flat clean surface and arrange the 4 sides face-up according to your intended frame shape. You're now ready to connect the first two sides. Slide them together ensuring the diagonal end of one side sits on top of the other side. Then insert the linking tab into the corresponding diagonal slit ① and tuck in the corner flap ②.

Holding the two sides in place carefully flip the frame over so the backs face upwards. Square-up the two corners and then, using a pen or pencil, firmly push in the corner anchor tab ③ to lock the corners together. Then tuck the corner of the base panel into the Tuck slot ④.

Carefully flip the two sides back over again and check they're squared-up. Peel off one of the supplied sticky pads and stick it down across the diagonal as indicated ⑤ with the removable side facing upwards. This permanently secures the two sides in place.

Add the third side in the same way, remembering to push in the corner anchor tab and making sure the corner is nice and square before fixing with a sticky pad. Adding the fourth side can be a bit fiddly, but you can do it. Remember that the diagonal end sit on top. Tuck in both corner flaps first and then insert both linking tabs. Flip over and push in the remaining two anchor tabs and use the last two sticky pads to permanently secure the frame.

You're now ready to frame the "thing" you love. Simply peel off the sticky pad covers and place your image in the frame. The upper side of the sticky pads is low tack so you can gently peel off your image to reposition or even replace with something else.

Each frame size has a centred wall hanging hole, so all you need is a small nail, panel pin or even a push pin. Better still use a Tesa® Adhesive Nail. If you use adhesive hanging strips or BluTack®, only attach to the flat part of the top panel and NOT under the box section, so you can press firmly to the wall without damaging the frame.

* All measurements indicate what size artwork the frame will fit BUT there's an extra 5mm to allow for encapsulated items or canvas. Your artwork can be up to 6cm shorter than any of these six frame sizes as it can sit within the area - see examples on our website.
