A Partnership

We are two sisters, living in India and UK, straddling the cultural bridge between our mother-land and home-land, and together we design colourful, contemporary home furnishings, clothing and accessories. Faro collections radiate vibrant colours and are made by artisans in India using only high-quality fabrics.

We inspire people to embrace design, colour and print in their homes while investing in our love of India and our commitment to ethical manufacturing and supporting the vitality of our artisan communities.

We believe in what we do. And we do what we believe in.

We empower others by engaging with our artisans and manufacturers directly at the source so we can support their communities. We think manufacturing should be undertaken responsibly, to look after our craft traditions, environment and all the people involved. Working with our local artisan makers we can ensure they are looked after with good sustainable and ethical practices, creating a supply chain that ensures welfare, health and safety and fair wages at all stages. Our Faro workshop in India ensures we develop long term relationships with our artisan makers, and provide reassurance to our customers that we can be responsive to requests and situations to ensure every order is completed to the best quality with acute attention to detail. We feel passionately about keeping traditional crafts alive and by giving design support to the artisans, we help reinforce and reinvigorate these skills while bringing beautifully made items to our customers at an accessible price.

Our ambition is exuberance; sustainable, colourful luxury that brings joy to your life.

The word exuberance comes from words that mean 'abundant' and 'life-giving.' It's a way of seeing the wonder in our lives and celebrating it as we live.

Living an exuberant life style means living life to the fullest; enjoying every day: joyously unrestrained and enthusiastic.

It is a way of expression that simply has no boundaries, wonder everywhere.
