Connection Through Craft

At The Basket Room, you'll find beautiful handwoven baskets, bags, and accessories. Handcrafted by women's cooperatives in Kenya, Ghana, Tanzania, Zambia and Zimbabwe, our colourful woven collections inspire creativity with their artisanal patterns and organic designs.

With sustainability at the core of everything we do, our traditionally made African baskets are kind on the planet and good for the soul. They provide opportunities for over 10,000 weavers in rural areas, while bringing contemporary colour to every corner of the home.

Our unique perspective allows us to strengthen the connection between artisan and buyer, whether through images of the artisans, information cards telling their story or the inclusion of the maker's name in the basket, underlining the transparency of our supply chain.

Our commitment to slow fashion and sustainability makes us a leader in ethical home accessories.

Create (1 OF 2)

Made in Kenya

Delivering a pop of joy through vibrant colour and pattern, our CREATE collection of woven baskets brings a deep sense of healing celebration and individuality to everyday life.

The talented Kenyan craftswomen who produce these sisal woven baskets all learned to weave from a young age, and work within small craft collectives in rural Kenya.

Each basket bears a small, removable card stitched into its base with the full name of the weaver who made it, bringing honest meaning to what it means to truly create.

Grow

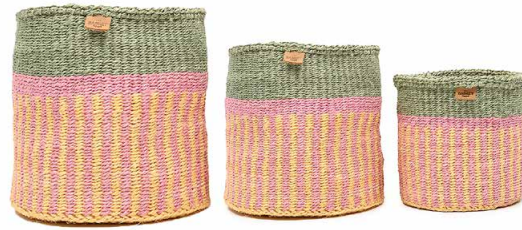

Made in Kenya

This collection of designs captures stylish checks and fine pinstripes in blossom-inspired pastel tones and colour block baskets in sage green and baby blue.

Each basket bears a small, removable card stitched into its base with the full name of the weaver who made it, bringing an awareness of its beginnings as each basket becomes part of a new life cycle.

These baskets make perfect planters and desk tidies, storage for toiletries and accessories, craft projects, toys and much more, adapting to different home storage needs over time, finding new purposes as the years go by.

Rewild

Made in Kenya

Our REWILD collection draws influence from nature and the need to reconnect with the outdoors, and embrace our native self.

Hues of husk, green, and black come together with un-dyed sisal to create a natural, but beautifully intricate look.

Handcrafted in rural Kenya, these storage baskets serve as a reminder that the most meaningful belongings experienced a life before, and will stand the test of time through careful and honest craft. This collection encourages us to look to nature for healing, to slow things down and to grow your own way within nature's sweet embrace.

Floor & Shelf Baskets

Made in Tanzania

Handcrafted from resilient milulu grass in Tanzania, this extended range of cubed storage baskets blends traditional craft with modern interior design.

They come in three practical sizes, the largest of which fit comfortably into the cubed storage shelf units found in many contemporary homes.

Woven from reeds found in riverbeds and swampland, which can have a grassy tone when the material is green, this mellows with time into a beautiful, naturally textured finish.

Making square storage baskets is particularly skilled work and so while these handwoven baskets may not always be perfectly cubed, they are always beautifully formed.

Reintroducing our immensely popular cubed storage baskets, hand woven in Northern Ghana from indigenous veta vera grass.

Each storage cube takes up to three days to complete and the process is intricate: before weaving can begin, the grass is collected and split by hand, then hand-rolled and dyed.

They fit most standard cubed shelving units, and are available in five different designs; four stylish repeat colourways and FOSO our new assorted mix, pictured are some examples.

Nifty Knit Baskets

Made in Kenya

These striking floor baskets are woven in part from recycled sweaters.

The weavers carefully unravel second hand knitwear to make bundles of yarn, which are then rewoven to their own designs, resulting in a beautiful one-of-a-kind basket.

They take astonishing skill to produce and up to six days to complete. Traditionally mothers would craft a 'kiondo' for their daughter upon marriage.

The XL size is large enough to store blankets, throws or laundry and both sizes work well as characterful planters, or to tidy away shoes, slippers or playroom toys. Sold as an assorted mix.

Natural Dye Baskets

Made in Kenya

Handwoven baskets hand-dyed using only natural materials, their beautiful hues achieved through foraging, pounding and mulching local grasses, tree bark, soil and even fireplace charcoal and soot.

Sisal grass fibres are boiled in water with the dye materials, or sometimes even buried next to tree roots to take on the desired colour.

Creating natural dyes for weaving is a labour-intensive process, but an altogether worthwhile one, creating more sustainable, environmentally friendly work for the community.

Made in Kenya

Lidded doum palm storage baskets.

The laundry baskets come in three ample sizes, are particularly sturdy and can also make for useful bedside tables, log baskets or toy storage.

Our new small BAKULI basket is perfect for tidying away everyday clutter too.

These baskets are hand woven in Turkana, North Western Kenya, a region experiencing severe long term drought and a lack of employment and educational opportunities.

Basketry is a valuable source of income for the Turkana people. Using traditional techniques, often passed down through the female line, they produce these incredible works of art.

Versatile extra large sisal laundry bags with soft suede handles.

Created by the most experienced artisan weavers we partner with, these lovely laundry baskets take six days and up to forty balls of sisal to complete.

Two expert leather workers (known locally as 'fundis') then carefully adorn them with a smart leather trim and practical handles.

Large and robust enough to hold fireside logs, laundry or toys, they can also serve as a beach bag or oversized shopping bag – the uses are never-ending!

Colourful Tableware

Mix and match sisal coasters, placemats and bread baskets – for an eclectic, artisan tablescape.

The craftswomen behind these woven wonders practise their craft within a small weaving group in rural Kenya. Where once these weavers would undertake a long journey to Nairobi to sell their work, we now place regular orders with them, enabling them to work safely and flexibly from home.

The majority of weavers are also subsistence farmers. During dry seasons when farming slows down, weaving work empowers women to support their families.

Made in Kenya

Handwoven from sisal grass on a loom by a single independent artisan.

Bernard makes each one of these decorative door mats himself in his workshop in rural Kenya, having learned to weave on a hand-loom through a UN-funded project over twenty years ago.

Nifty Knit Bags

Made in Kenya

Colourful tote bags, bucket bags and backpacks, made in part from upcycled wool in Kenya.

The weavers visit the 'gikombas' (clothes markets) to select and purchase colourful woollen jumpers, which are washed and unravelled to form balls of coloured wool, then woven.

Each bag is created by a highly skilled member of the Kamba tribe, to their own design, taking inspiration from traditional tribal motifs and colours.

The result is a unique piece of wearable art, a colourful expression of the artisan's creativity.
