eatsleepdoodle make fun, creative and educational textile gifts to colour in and personalise with included wash-out pens. From pillowcases to pencil cases, designs range from world map, dinosaur, butterflies, space explorer and pond life to fairy tales and legends; every gift offers lots to learn and discover as you enjoy colouring and personalising at the same time. Each textile gift comes complete with a set of our ten wash-out pens - and the ink completely disappears in the machine (and from everything else in the wash!) ready for next time!

In an age of screens and short attention spans, eatsleepdoodle create unique, thoughtful and educational gifts that are not only practical, but sustainable, too.

Use and re-use again and again, our textile gifts provide endless fun wash after wash!
