Dear Customer

Downstairs collection 2021

I could use many words to describe the last twelve months. Challenging, frustrating, demanding and most of all, when will things be normal again?

I am so delighted to be able to say that despite not having the answers to all of these issues we have worked our way through this crisis. Supported by you our loyal customers and our dedicated workforce we have continued to manufacture and supply the products you have come to know and love.

Despite the challenges we have faced we have continued to invest in products and technology in order that we remain your first choice for high quality, well designed and superbly manufactured sleep products.

This year has seen us invest in our own fibre filling and CNC machines to allow us to react quickly to customers' orders, in addition to this we have added to our collection of stocked imported sofas and our aim this year is to have in stock our best-selling own manufactured models in the best-selling fabric to allow for faster delivery.

I hope that by working together we can continue to grow our business as well as yours.

Upholstery

Good-looking, well-designed upholstery that meets key price points and never strays from the comfort zone: this is the Sweet Dreams collection.

Our own-made sofas, chairs and stools are designed and manufactured at our premises in Lancashire, providing employment to our local workforce - and fabulous upholstery to stores up and down the country.

Consistency of quality and service is our goal. A SATRA member, we have our own compliance centre and in the last year have invested both in track systems and cutting machinery so we can offer a greater number of designs, all with a very quick turnaround. Our British-made models are made to order and delivered within 14 days to almost everywhere in the UK.

We maintain a similar delivery schedule for our imported upholstery, holding it in stock at our cavernous, state-of-the-art warehouse here at Primrose Mill. Our popular recliners are sourced with care from responsible suppliers overseas and offer delectable comfort at the press of a button. The collection complements our UK-made ranges so that even the choosiest customer may find a sofa to relax on with pleasure.

Sofabeds

Space is so often at a premium in British homes, so it's no surprise that sofabeds have really come into their own. Finding a sofabed that looks attractive as a sofa and is just as comfortable as a bed is no mean feat, yet the Sweet Dreams collection has gone from strength to strength, proving we have what it takes.

We cater to many tastes, with designs heading towards the hipster end of the market as well as more traditional styles. A number of our sofabeds are British-made and others are sourced from reliable manufacturers overseas. Whether the need is for a showpiece in the primary reception room or a useful extra bed in a study or spare room, Sweet Dreams have the perfect sofabed solution.

Matching stools are always desirable along with a sofa. All our own-made sofas and chairs now come with a choice of stools in fabric to match.

*You're the designer!
Select your style of stool from three options: oval, small round or large round.
Then choose whether to go for a plain all over, an accent fabric all over or accent top and plain sides. Whichever way, the effect is magical.
And once you've waved your wand, you get to put your feet up.*

Upholstery Care Care

Upholstery Care

Compliance: Sweet Dreams ensure all our products comply with the strict UK flammability regulations and we only source components from suppliers who are able to provide requisite certification of compliance.

Sustainability: Sweet Dreams take our environmental responsibilities very seriously and ensure that all timber used in our products meets European Union Timber Regulations (EUTR).

Caring for your upholstery

Please ensure that, where applicable, you regularly plump your back cushions and turn your seat cushions to ensure even wear and preserve their shape.

Upholstery can be regularly cleaned by using a soft-brush attachment on your vacuum cleaner to reduce dust and dirt build-up.

Some upholstery fabrics that have a pile (e.g. chenille and boucle) may show shade or pressure marks and flatten. This is normal and not a fabric fault. Chenille-type fabrics have a directional pile which can give a shading effect. Using a clothes brush, lightly stroke in the direction of the pile to maintain the appearance of the fabric.

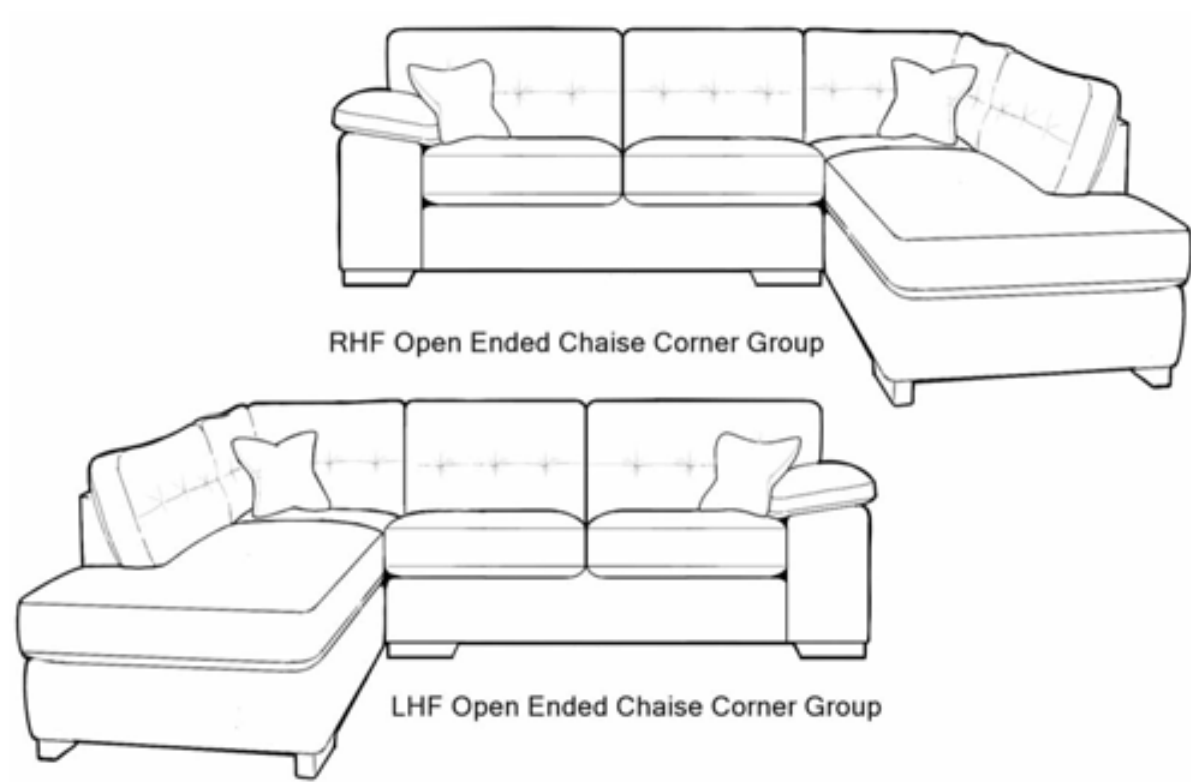

For spills, blot the excess liquid with a dry clean white cloth, taking care not to rub. Only use stain remover after testing on an invisible area to ensure there's no loss of colour. Always follow the instructions on the label or care leaflet. We recommend that you use a professional in-home upholstery dry cleaning service for proper cleaning.

During the first three months of use, foam and fibre material found in your cushions tends to soften slightly and then stabilises. This settling may also create creases on the covering. This is a normal characteristic of the product and is not a fault.

We strongly advise that the following should not come into direct contact with your upholstery: shoe heels; clothing or bags with studs or any metal adornment; and claws. These may all cause snags and produce tears and cuts in the fabric.

We also recommend that you don't subject your upholstery to bouncing, climbing, sitting on arms or backs or applying undue pressure to them; pulling or dragging rather than lifting; using liquids, paint or other viscous substances too near or with undue care; exposing to a too-close heat source such as a fire, radiator or heater; and leaving in direct sunlight for long periods, such as in a conservatory without blinds. To do so risks the good looks and durability of your furniture as well as being likely to invalidate your warranty, so do take care.
