

SACHI

FINE HOME FRAGRANCE

BORN FROM A PASSION FOR TRAVEL, QUALITY & SUSTAINABILITY

Luxury, redefined.

Origins

Sachi was conceived during a quiet moment of escape, a pause from the rhythm of working abroad, the kind of stillness that turns scent into ritual. What began as a personal act of self-care became a passionate pursuit: to compose fragrances that don't simply scent a room, but evoke a place, a memory, a sense of wellbeing, the feeling of having travelled somewhere.

Philosophy

Sachi is family-built. Every decision, from the ingredients we source to the packaging we present them in, is made with deep respect for the people who live with our fragrances and the world they live in. We never rush a product to market. What you hold in your hands is the result of months of rigorous testing, considered craftsmanship, and an unwavering belief that beauty should never come at a cost to your health or the world around you.

Luxury, for Sachi, is not defined by price or prestige, it is defined by what we refuse to compromise on. It is not a label. It is a standard we live by, every single day.
