HANDMADE JEWELLERY

Jewellery Lookbook

January 2026

With a curiosity for unconventional beauty, Sketchy Bones Collective translates the peculiarities of our natural world into carefully handcrafted, highly detailed and refined jewellery. Cenan's background in architecture drives a dynamic, inventive and problem-solving approach to jewellery design. Blending traditional craft with technology, Sketchy Bones utilises Computer Aided Design (CAD) & 3D printing to produce moulds to be cast in-house using the ancient method of lost-wax casting.
