passion & commitment our secret ingredients

Chicking® started with a vision of our founder, Mr. A. K. Mansoor, who identified the need for a fully Halal compliant QSR that serves great tasting food in an inviting environment. Back then, the choice available was very limited, and so after thorough market research the Chicking® team passionately created a range of outstanding recipes, which includes our signature tastes and pioneering food concepts.

From the time it was launched, Chicking® was a runaway success. Confident of having created a winning concept, the Al Bayan Group of Companies incorporated Chicking® as a registered international trademark into the group. Since then, Chicking® has boldly innovated by creating an exciting and varied menu that is inspired by taste cultures from around the world, and winning millions of customers along the way.

Our outlets are designed to optimize the Chicking® experience while ensuring the utmost in comfort in an inviting atmosphere. We believe in maintaining an image that is fresh and energetic, two principles that are firmly portrayed through our creative décor and ambience.

Just walking into a Chicking® outlet will have you feel a distinctive and inviting air filled by familiar and enticing aromas. Coupled with highly trained and efficient staff, the experience is well-rounded, refined and above all, friendly.

With most Chicking® outlets situated in high footfall places like shopping malls, hypermarket malls and other popular venues, it only makes sense to take a little extra care to include all family members. Not merely via the innovative food items on our menu, but we have also devised a range of specially crafted attractions as per outlet type.

These can range from seasonal promotions, to new product launches relevant to the local market, or even the dedicated play areas for kids (exclusive to our dine-in outlets) that provide ample entertainment and excitement in a safe and fun environment.

And don't worry about what the children will be eating; we have created a special kids' menu full of nutritious and tasty options just for them! Chicking® promises the flavors, aromas, prices and settings that everyone adores.
