FLASHPOINT

Law Enforcement Bundle

Cybercrime, terrorism, and trafficking are only a few of the challenges today's law enforcement teams face in their efforts to uphold public safety. Having spent years arming law enforcement teams in the fight against cyber, cyber-enabled, and physical threats, we have tailored our offerings to support your unique needs, challenges, and objectives.

In order to protect the public and national security interests, Law Enforcement teams need fast and secure access to data from open and closed sources, and intelligence support from experts who understand the intricacies and nuances of illicit communities and threat actor group operations.

Our Law Enforcement Bundle Includes:

EXTENSIVE DATA COLLECTIONS AND TECHNICAL INTELLIGENCE
The Flashpoint Intelligence Platform provides teams with access to illicit online communities including closed sources across forums, the open web, and chat services, as well as indicators of compromise (IOCs), and technical data as analyzed by Flashpoint intelligence analysts.

SUPPORT FROM BEST-IN-CLASS INTELLIGENCE EXPERTS
Our Selector Enrichment solution is a force multiplier for your organization. Our intelligence team provides additional data points to validate or verify information on entities of interest, bolstering the quality of your analytics products and assessments. Integrate our findings into your own analysis and obtain outputs from data not currently accessible to Flashpoint customers.

REAL-TIME, GEOLOCATED SOCIAL MEDIA DATA
The Echosec Platform, Flashpoint's open-source intelligence solution, enables you to find, filter, and analyze real-time information from social media and online discussions to improve situational awareness and accelerate investigations. Cut through the noise, zero in on specific keywords and locations, get alerts when new, relevant content is posted, and monitor trends and patterns over time.

This comprehensive solution set delivers access to everything Flashpoint has to offer to support Law Enforcement teams—from software, to services, and award-winning customer success.
